Women Faint When Sheriff Opens Fire in the Ferry Building

Hubert Montego, on Way to San Quentin, Tries to Make His Escape

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Slipping the handcuffs which bound him to Sheriff Roundtree of Santa Cruz, Hubert Montego, a prisoner sentenced to two years in San Quentin for burglary, made a dash for liberty in the nave of the ferry building shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Roundtree, recovering from surprise, drew his revolver and fired at the fleeing man. The bullet pierced Montego's left arm and struck W. Hartman, a waiter on the steamship Yale, who was standing near by. The crowd at the ferry building was thrown into a panic, women fainted and men shouted for police. Within a moment several patrolmen were on the scene and headed off Montego, who was captured before he had gone many paces.

Roundtree was at the Sausalito ferry ticket office buying tickets for himself and prisoner when the man in some way succeeded in freeing himself from the handcuffs. The prisoner formerly lived in Richmond.

Both Montego and Hartman were treated at the Harbor Hospital for their wounds. Later the trip to San Quentin was continued.

SOUTHERN VISITING HERE

Los Angeles Real Estate Board Praises Growth of Oakland

Taken on Tour of New Retail District and Residence Section

It was Oakland's turn today to entertain the half hundred visiting members of the Los Angeles Real Estate Board, who came to the bay yesterday on the steamer Yale to show their good feeling for fellow brokers and other residents of this region.

After viewing the exposition site and other projects of interest to them across the bay, the delegation was ready for new sights today, and in Oakland they found much that impressed them.

The visitors were escorted across the bay by Secretary C. Fred Burks of the Oakland Real Estate Association, the members of which acted as official hosts of the day. A reception committee of local realty brokers met the southern party at the Key Route Inn shortly after 11 o'clock and conveyed the guests in automobiles to the Capwell roof garden, where H. C. Capwell welcomed them in a brief address.

ATTRACT INTEREST.—The completed buildings and those under construction in the new retail district, the towering new city hall and the new Hotel Oakland attracted the interest and admiration of the men to whom such structures mean

PRISONER BLOWS UP AUTO

'Masher' Lights the Gasoline Tank of Patrol and Ignites Inmates

One Fatally Burned and Three Others, Including Officer, Set Afire

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—Exploding with a match the fumes of gasoline rising from an open tank, a "masher" on the way to jail, blew up an automobile patrol in the downtown section of the city today. The patrol was destroyed and the flames that followed the explosion fatally burned one prisoner and caused the serious injury of two others and a policeman, Louis Canto.

Canto, with his clothing afire, started in pursuit of the "masher" and another prisoner, who, unhurt, were speeding down the street, but he was stopped by pedestrians, who stripped his flaming clothing from his body, while the fugitives escaped.

F. C. Cole, chauffeur of the patrol car, was discharged immediately by Chief of Police Sebastian for negligence.

The patrol was being driven back to Central Station after a round-up of prisoners, who had been taken into custody for intoxication and other offenses. The "masher," who had been arrested on complaint of a woman, was taken aboard on Hill street, and a moment afterward the motor car stopped for lack of gasoline. Cole, the chauffeur, went to Central Station and, procuring a supply, returned with it to the patrol and opened the tank. The fumes immediately arose from the open intake and spread through the covered interior of the car. The "masher" promptly lit a match and an explosion followed.

Dan Kelly, the fatally injured prisoner, was burned from head to foot. Howard Munell and L. D. Davis, other prisoners, were seriously burned about their bodies and faces.

Blaze Starts in Twelfth-Street Paint Shop, Destroying Structure

Clad in Nightgowns, Men and Women in Threatened Hostelry Run Into Street

FIRE which started from the spontaneous combustion of oils in a paint shop in a two-story frame building adjoining the Hotel St. Mark sent nearly 180 guests scurrying through choked corridors and down narrow stairways attired only in scanty garments about midnight last night. The fire, which was controlled with difficulty, was one of the most spectacular that has occurred in Oakland. Damage is estimated at about $35,000, a large portion of which was covered by insurance.

Panic-stricken guests of the Hotel St. Mark in Twelfth street and of the Hotel St. George in Thirteenth street rushed from their rooms, in many cases in night attire, with hastily gathered valuables in their hands. Women, excited to hysteria, were led from the buildings by firemen and by their relatives. The work of the fire department, and the presence of mind of those in charge saved any of the guests from suffering injury other than that from the shock and exposure.

GARMENTS PROVIDED.

Garments were quickly provided for the fugitives, and medical assistance given the women suffering from panic by Dr. J. H. Cohn, Dr. H. P. Travers and Dr. C. T. Devine, who were guests at the St. Mark.

That the damage to the hotel structure and furnishings will not exceed $5000 was the statement of M. E. Mark, owner and manager of the hostelry, this morning.

"The fire affected about twenty of the 250 rooms in the hotel," said Mark. "The apartments damaged are on the second, third and fourth floors on the east side. Most of the harm was done by water, which stood in pools for a time on the concrete floors. The tinting on the walls, the wooden trimmings, furniture and carpets were damaged."

"There has been no interruption of business, as 230 rooms were left available for occupancy. Many guests on the west side of the building slept throughout the fire."

The fire started in the paint shop, which was situated in a two-story frame building adjoining the hotel. The fire spread to the hotel structure, which was a multi-story building with many windows. The fire department arrived on the scene and worked for several hours to control the fire. The damage to the hotel structure and furnishings is estimated at about $35,000.

GUESTS FLEE IN NIGHTIES WHEN FIRE ATTACKS HOTEL

St. Mark Threatened When Blaze Starts in Adjoining Building

The entire downtown service. Theater crowds abandoned for an hour the chances of getting home and assembled in the streets to watch the fight between the firemen and the flames. Little damage was done to the Hotel St. George, but about 20 rooms of the Hotel St. Mark were attacked by the flames sweeping up the east wall of the east wing of the big hotel, and the guests were driven by the heat, flames and smoke to seek refuge in the corridors and make their way down the stairs to the street.

The fire occurred in an ideal bakewell square on the north side of Twelfth street, between Franklin and Webster. A two-story frame structure, owned by the Marks estate and occupied by half a dozen small stores, by the D. H. Farner paint shop and the Broadwater & Co. printing shop, befell on one side of the eight-story concrete Hotel St. Mark and on the other side by the Florence block, a three-story and basement brick structure. At the back of the frame building is the rear of the Hotel St. George, another brick structure of about six stories in height.

PIT OF FLAMES

The fire started in the Farner sign painting shop, 332 Twelfth street, closely adjoining the east wing of the Hotel St. Mark. The flames attacked the frame structure, and had the adjoining buildings been of wood, it would probably have spread to become a conflagration meaning the heart of the business district.

As it was, the huge oven-like enclosure resolved itself into a pit of flames lashing against the origin of the concrete walls of the surrounding structures. The firemen were given an opportunity to confine themselves in a large measure to the one building, only taking precautions of the most necessary nature against the brick and concrete structures being involved.

Five fire companies were brought into service, besides No. 12 engine, the high pressure auxiliary system company. Chief N. A. Ball directed the work of fighting the fire and the streams of water from the high pressure system were shot through and over the frame structure and to a level six stories on the adjoining buildings.

DISCOVERED AT 11:30

The fire was discovered about 11:30 last night when the flames were eating their way through the shingle roof of the Farner paint shop.

It is believed that spontaneous combustion of oil in the paint shop may have started the fire but it might have started from the clothing and tailoring shop beneath the paint company's place. A third theory that was advanced to account for the blaze was that a cigarette from a guest might have started the fire from one of the east windows of the hotel to the shingle roof of the frame structure.

When the firemen arrived the flames had advanced too far for the men to determine the origin of the blaze. They devoted all their energies to fighting the sea of flames and fire in the walked-in square.

WARN'S HOTEL GUESTS

T. C. Hopkins, one of the assistant managers of the St. Mark, was notified of the fire and immediately decided to warn his guests. The hotel butler started the fire and it might have started from the clothing and tailoring shop beneath the paint company's place. A third theory that was advanced to account for the blaze was that a cigarette from a guest might have started the fire from one of the east windows of the hotel to the shingle roof of the frame structure.

Heroic work was performed under his orders by the hotel telephone exchange operators, who held the line and kept the flames from reaching the hotel. While the flames were beating and hissing against the walls of the hotel the girl remained heroically at her switchboard, ringing the numbers in 185 rooms occupied by guests and in the hotel. The fire was in progress and that they should dress and be in readiness to leave the hotel. J. Clorom, a fireman living at 3021 Brook street, was painfully burned about the face and hands and was treated at the Receiving Hospital before being taken to his home.

In the last elevator party was Lottie Collins, an English actress, and between the fifth and sixth floors the fire stopped and was not noticed despite the heroic efforts of Elevator Operator Eddie Stump. With the smoke almost choking all of the occupants, firemen had to chop out the top of the wire cage and release the imprisoned men and women.

SCENE OF DISORDER

A scene of some disorder followed the alarm. Guests in the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth stories on the east side of the hotel were apprised of their danger by the ringing of the telephone bells and by the glare of light as the flames flared up the stairs of the hotel. The guests broke away and the wooden ceilings smoked and caught fire, their curls of flames etching the window frames in relief against the white concrete walls.

Guests in 12 of the rooms first attacked by the flames were driven out by smoke and flames and made their way in scant deshabille into the hallways and through the acid and stinging smoke to the street. Those who were first forced from their rooms were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crow, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ough, Miss Lotta Collins, the English actress; Miss H. Whitney, Al Bernstein, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Anderson, Miss J. J. Devine and J. R. Liddy.

TAKEN IN ELEVATORS

The first guests were taken down in elevators, but after a few had been carried down Hopkins ordered that they be stopped, as there was danger of the elevator system being put out of order and the trapping of guests between floors in the steel cages.

Incidents which at the time failed to arouse the amusement of those concerned were the subject of gossip in the hotel lobby this morning. The top floor of the hotel is devoted to large sample rooms for the use of druggists and commercial travelers. This contained many thousands of dollars' worth of sample stocks. William Jackson, a shoe man, had a large sample stock, and while crouched in but scanty attire, he attempted to drag several huge trunks down the narrow stairways.

"I could get new clothes in Oakland," said Jackson this morning. "I didn't care about my clothes; but it would take me a long time to renew my stock of samples."

JEWELRY DAMAGED.
A. Bennett, a jewelry salesman, had a stock of $10,000, much of which was badly damaged by the fire. Prominent guests who made their way with difficulty down the smoke-filled stairways were: Miss Julia Ferris and George H. Wright, of the "Bought and Paid For" company, now playing at the Macdonough Theater; Mr. and Mrs. F. Zobel, Miss S. G. Floyd, Miss S. Wallis, Dr. J. H. Cohn, Miss H. P. Gale, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Harrison, Dr. C. T. Devine, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Perry and Dr. H. P. Travers.

Many of these left in their night garments and were assisted by other guests with wraps and overcoats until the fire was under control and it was declared safe to return to the building. The fire was well under control by 1 o'clock this morning.

Total damage is estimated at about $34,000. Of this, $5,000 is the damage to the hotel proper, about $500 personal loss in sample stocks, personal effects, etc., in the hotel; and the following estimated losses to tenants of the frame structure:

Damage to frame building, property of Marks estate, $10,000.
Slight damage to Hotel St. George, probably not more than $300.
Oakland clothing renovator, 376 Twelfth street, $100.
New York Hat Works, 376 1/2 Twelfth street, $800.
California market, Phillips & Leisz, 374 Twelfth street, $300.
R. J. Edwards provisions, 380 Twelfth street, $500.
E. H. Fahrner, 382 Twelfth street, $3000.
Broadwater & Co., printers, same address, $500.

Fire companies 1, 2, 11, 5 and 9, and the high pressure auxiliary company, engine No. 12, responded to the call. Fire Chief N. A. Ball and George Macdonald, assisted by Battalion Chief C. E. Morgan, directed the work of fighting the blaze.

LAWRENCE STRIKERS TO DECIDE ACTION TODAY

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 28.—The question of continuing or settling the strike in the Lawrence textile mills called Thursday as a protest against the imprisonment of Elton and Giovannielli, the Industrial Workers of the World organizers was expected to be settled at a mass meeting on Lawrence Common this afternoon. The strike continued today, despite the vote of operatives at meetings last night to return to their machines. It was estimated that 3000 hands were idle. There was no trouble of any kind when the mill gates opened and the strikers did not post any pickets. Leaders of the organization claimed that the strike demonstration has been sufficient protest against the imprisonment of Elton and Giovannielli.

Mill officials have expressed the intention of opening on Monday morning as usual.

much and there were frequent praise-worthy comments by all the visitors upon the remarkable growth of Oakland.

Their surprise over the development downtown had not diminished before they were given fresh cause for wonder in the residence districts to which they were taken. Lake Merritt was greatly admired and so were the hill tracts, in which many costly and artistic homes have been erected within the last few years.

The Southrons were shown through the new Hotel Oakland by Manager Victor Rafter and J. P. P. The boulevard skirting Lake Merritt and those threading the hill sections were then traversed.

AT PIEDMONT PARK

The visitors were entertained at luncheon at Piedmont Park, after an inspection of the rare paintings in the park art gallery. At the table, felicitous addresses were made by the visiting and local brokers. The address of welcome was delivered by Owen E. Rolle of the Oakland Real Estate Association, who presided, and the response by Charles G. Andrews, president of the Los Angeles Realty Board. Andrews said the delegation had come to bring a message of good cheer and to cement relations of cordial fellowship.

"We of Los Angeles are proud of our booming spirit," he said, "which has brought such rich results, and we find much of the same spirit here. There is no difference in sentiment now—it is California above all other interests. Yours is a beautiful and an enterprising city and our party has seen a great deal that is interesting and admirable."

Great Success Marks Sale Conducted by Women

Bright and early this morning a hundred society women and several hundred school children stationed themselves at points throughout the city to gather silver in the cause of charity, this being the day fixed by the directors of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Providence Hospital Association as annual tag day.

A dozen field captains, representing prominent clubwomen, marshaled their forces early in the districts that had been assigned to them, and by 10 o'clock in the morning the stream of silver had begun to find its way to the headquarters at Breuners store, Thirteenth and Franklin streets. As the day progressed the silver stream increased in volume, until the success of the day financially seemed assured.

WAY IS EFFECTIVE

Miss Matilda Brown, director-general for the day, expressed herself this morning as follows: "We realize that tag day is no longer an original or novel method of soliciting alms, but no matter what has ever been found for reaching the people and distributing the result so widely and evenly that no one can possibly be overburdened. There are thousands of people in Oakland who really desire to aid such charities as we represent, only they are too occupied with their own affairs ever to go out of their way to hunt us up and give us the aid we need. The simple expedient of confronting them on the street on an occasion like this, where they are sure that the dimes which they themselves will not miss will reach the proper destination and really accomplish a wonderful amount of good, we actually find our plan welcomed by the great majority of the public."

"A dime is such a really insignificant amount of money that almost every person can spare the sum on a time like this, yet if everyone were to buy one tag today, we would have enough to carry on our work for a year on a broader scale than ever before possible."

NO EASY TASK

"The women and young girls who have so generously enlisted today in our cause deserve the sympathy and encouragement of the public. It is no easy or pleasant task for a cultured, refined girl to approach a strange man on the street and solicit charity, but if everyone were to do this, we could imagine how the girl or woman will feel."

Oakland's spirit of good-hearted hospitality and generosity was in evidence this morning for everybody on the street on an occasion like this. The women expect to be particularly successful this evening when the Saturday night crowds descend to the shopping districts. All the theaters have promised assistance and tags will be sold at all many places. At the Orpheum, between acts, the players and ushers will sell tags to the audience and a handsome sum is expected to be netted in this manner.

FIELD CAPTAINS

Following are the captains who are in charge of the day and who are soliciting Miss Matilda Brown, Miss Mollie Connors and other directors:

Miss Helen Campbell, Mrs. J. Y. Eccleston, Mrs. Richard Hardin, Miss Anna Crain, Miss Elva McGraw, Miss Spencer Brown, Mrs. H. S. Kerlan, Miss Nellie Baker, Mrs. F. J. Henkelius, Mrs. H. Bonner, Mrs. Edwin Garthwaite, Mrs. F. F. Weston.

TO LECTURE ON ROUGE AND RATS

Peek-a-Boo Waist and Origin of Sense of Modesty to Be Discussed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28. — The real reason of the hobble skirt, corset and peek-a-boo waist, the origin of the sense of modesty, and why men are valuer than women, are some of the points explained in a lecture describing the new special exhibit on "Dress and Adornment" which opens Sunday, September 29, in the revolving room of the Museum of Anthropology at the Affiliated Colleges.

Following the recent practice of the museum, the lecture will be given every Sunday and holiday afternoon as long as the collection remains on view, which will be for two months only.

The lecture and exhibit have been prepared especially to show that clothing and bodily ornament of today have their roots in the far distant past, and how the evolution of the fashions of Powell street and of the ruffles, rouge and rats of Peacock alley can be traced back to the primordial fig leaf.

CORSETS 4000 YEARS AGO

Safety pins were used by the Greeks six centuries before Christ, while corsets, though much decried in certain quarters as a deplorable modern innovation, were worn by the women of Crete 4000 years ago. On the other hand, among some tribes in the men and not the women who reduce their waist measure. The hobble, or tube skirt, so much in evidence of late, also boasts of a modest antiquity, five thousand years having elapsed since it was in vogue with the ladies of Egypt. Correctly tailored trousers, which male sex deems a triumph in the matter of dress, were perfectly developed in ancient times, the soldiers of Cyrus the Great dispersing them no less than the famous original suffragettes or fighting ladies of Greece, the Amazons.

In the matter of shaving, the ancient Aztecs of Mexico were in no way our inferiors. Barber shops were numerous in their cities and there they used tweezers each day, for shaving was compulsory with all but the army, clergy and nobility. The razors used were of glass instead of steel. The Incas of Peru differed from the Aztecs in that they used tweezers of silver and kept the face clean by the simpler and more effective process of pulling the beard out, a practice still perpetuated by Ishi.

EAR PLUG EXHIBIT

Scalp shirts, primitive jewelry, tattooed and ornamentally patterned pieces of human beings, ear plugs, the size of a watch, studs worn in the lip instead of the shirt, and some eight hundred other specimens complete the exhibit, which has been further supplemented by a large series of photographs from all parts of the world. The explanatory lecture will begin promptly at three, and if necessary will be repeated for the accommodation of late comers. Visitors should take car line number 6 on Market or Hayes streets, which runs direct to the Museum.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28.—Preparations are being made by Warden James Johnston of Folsom state prison to open a school within the penitentiary and to this end he is in conference with State Superintendent of Public Instruction Edward Ryatt today at the prison. The warden will establish a graded school and all those prisoners who are in need of education will be taught.

The state superintendent of instruction has agreed to furnish all the school books possible for the purpose. The plan of the warden is to accomplish the reform of many of his wards through taking up their minds with studies.

MADERO'S UNCLE RETURNS HOME

Confident Revolutionists Are "On Run" and Troubles of Country Over.

SANTA BARRARA, Sept. 28.—With members of his family who have been here with him for the past ten months, Alberto Madero, uncle of President Madero of Mexico, left here today for the City of Mexico. He said he had received assurances from President Madero that revolutionary troubles were about over and that it was safe to return home. "The rebels have exhausted all their resources," said Mr. Madero, "and they are on the run."

STOCKTON FIREBUG CONFESSES CRIME

STOCKTON, Sept. 28.—R. Powell, a local painter, is in jail on the charge of arson, having confessed to an attempt to burn the home of Fred Schlittler of this city at a late hour Thursday night. The destruction of the house was prevented by the timely arrival of a traction car crew, who in passing saw flames licking up the side of the porch. Powell's motive for the crime is unknown, but the Schlittler family, with whom he boarded, suspect that he is insane from drink. He admits drinking heavily.

According to the story told by W. H. Schlittler, a minor son of Fred Schlittler and a cripple, he witnessed the attempt to burn the house. He declared that he was afraid to interfere, as Powell was armed and would not be trifled with.

TALK WITH TYNDALL ABOUT INTEREST EARNINGS

Ask any life insurance man—ANYWHERE—this question: "Which company earns the HIGHEST rate of interest on its investments?" He may squirm and try to lead you away from that question, but his records will PROVE that the UNION CENTRAL LIFE of Cincinnati has that distinction, and he KNOWS that high interest earnings tell of greater profits for policyholders—LOWER net cost.

Before buying life insurance there are just two things for you to consider: Is the Company safe? How much does it cost? All other questions just muddy the water and hide the REAL issue.

We are 47 years old—have EIGHTY-SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS assets—and insurance costs LESS with ANY OTHER company. "Nuf sed." Ask for cost at YOUR age by MAIL.

HEAVY SENTENCES FOR CONSPIRATORS

Scores of Koreans Are Sent to Prison for Attempt to Take Life.

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 28.—Heavy sentences were imposed today on many of the 123 Korean prisoners charged with conspiring against the life of Governor General Count Terashima.

Baron Yoon Chul Ho, formerly a cabinet minister, and several others of the more prominent among the accused were sent to prison for 10 years, while various terms of punishment were inflicted on all the other prisoners, except nine who were released.

The injection into the Korean conspiracy trial of the names of several American missionaries, prominent among them Bishop Merriman C. Harris of the Methodist Episcopal church, attracted world-wide attention to the case.

The trial began on June 28 and some of the prisoners, nearly all of whom were Christian converts, made confessions implicating the missionaries, which they afterward withdrew, as they declared they had made them under torture.

The Japanese government and the Korean officials disavowed at all times suspicion of any complicity on the part of the missionaries in the plot. They also declared they had no objection to the missionaries' labors in Korea with favor.

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

That is the nature of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the one remedy for women which contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs. Made from native medicinal forest roots. Dr. Pierce tells its every ingredient on the bottle-wrapper. Prominent physicians and some of the best medical authorities endorse these ingredients as being the very best known remedies for ailments and weaknesses peculiar to women.

This is what Mrs. GERTRUDE E. COFFEY, of Longstock, Ky., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you what your medicine have done for me. I was a great sufferer for six years from a trouble peculiar to women, but I am thankful to say, after taking four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I am not bothered with that dreadful disease any more. I feel like a new woman. When I first wrote you for advice I only weighed 115 pounds—now I weigh 135. 'I thank you very much for your kindness. You have been as a father to me in advising me what to do, so may God bless you in every effort you put forth for good. 'I hope this testimonial will be the means of some poor suffering woman seeking health.'"

Dr. Pierce's Medical Advisor, newly revised up-to-date edition, answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know.

ULSTER DAY STIRS BIG CROWD

Religious Services Interrupted
by Cheers of Excited
Audiences

Home Rule Is Plot to Dis-
member Empire, Says Rev.
W. C. McLean

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 28.—Ulster day, the Orangemen's culminating day of protest against home rule, opened with an absolute calmness that rendered Unionists and Home Rulers alike apprehensive as to what might happen.

The people of Ireland, even those responsible for today's signature of the formidable "league and covenant," had looked forward to the day's happenings with misgivings.

Sir Edward Carson was the first to sign the solemn covenant of the Ulstermen, which binds them to "use all the means that may be found necessary to defeat the present conspiracy to set up home rule in Ireland," and also to refuse to recognize the authority of an Irish parliament.

The weather was doubtful early in the day, but before the Ulster men had begun to gather for the religious services, which preceded the signing of the covenant, sunshine flooded the streets. The sun was gayly decorated, the Union Jack being everywhere predominant, one huge national flag enveloping the facade of Ulster Hall, the center of today's proceedings.

Most of the shops and all the big industrial works were closed, so that every man desiring to do so might be able to participate in the manifestation.

STALWART MEN ON GUARD.

A semi-military aspect was not lacking in the meeting. The 100 picked stalwart members of the Unionists' clubs and Orange lodges, wearing bright sashes, acted as a guard of honor, standing around the pulpit, while 700 of what is known as the reserve guard occupied seats in the gallery.

The great congregation was unable to restrain itself as notable personages came into the hall.

Among the first was Lord Charles Beresford, who was greeted with a loud cheer. Captain James Craig, the Unionist member for Eastdown, reminded the audience that the service was a religious one and said Sir Edward Carson wished it to be looked upon as such in the real sense of the word.

When Sir Edward Carson and Frederick E. Smith arrived, however, the people, forgetful of the appeal that had been made, again broke into cheers, which continued as the two leaders proceeded to the platform behind the Orange flag of the battle of the Boyne, presented to Sir Edward Carson in such a dramatic manner last evening.

The service opened with the hymn "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," after which a short prayer was offered and an appeal made to the Almighty to "stretch forth thy arms and help us through time of national danger."

The first lesson was from Isaiah xxvii:1-9, "We have a strong city," etc. SERMON AROUSES CROWD.

The Rev. W. C. McLean's sermon roused the congregation to another burst of cheering, which was suppressed from the pulpit. Dr. McLean declared that the Irish question at bottom was a war to begin the disintegration of the British empire by securing a second parliament in Dublin.

Ulstermen were ready, he said, to accept almost any program of social and political reform, but they would not have home rule.

The service concluded with the singing of the national anthem.

The scene around Ulster Hall when Sir Edward Carson and the signers of the covenant had been placed in the center of the hall was a remarkable one. The approach to the hall was lined by a bodyguard of men wearing sashes and armlets and carrying staves.

The men were posted about the grounds of the hall in such a way that they expected an attack from the Nationalists, who, however, thus far stood by as much pleased with the semi-military display as the Ulstermen themselves.

In the center of the marble-pillared vestibule of the hall stood a table covered with crimson and draped with the Union Jack, while in the corridors were long lines of wooden desks, where copies of the covenant had been placed for signing.

Unbounded enthusiasm was shown when, after Sir Edward Carson, came Lord Londonderry, the moderator of the Presbyterian church, the bishops of the diocese and protesters of various denominations, intermingled with Unionist members of parliament.

WOMEN SIGN PROTEST.
Many women signed a declaration associating themselves with the men of Ulster in "uncompromising opposition to the home rule bill."

All the leaders had signed the hall was temporarily closed to be opened later on for the rank and file. Some of these marched to the hall in a body while others came singly.

A pathetic incident was the arrival of Sir William Ewart, who took part in the convention of 1892, and as he is blind he was led up to the table to sign. Each man who signed was given a souvenir of the occasion in the form of a miniature copy of the covenant, to which also his signature was attached.

In the course of the day Sir Edward Carson received many messages conveyed by dispatch riders and the screaming crows.

A message from the lord prime minister was received and publicly read, it said: "May God give you strength and wisdom to guide aright Ireland's faithful sons in trying to save our beloved national land from degradation, disaster, religious strife and civil war."

SIGNED IN LONDON.
LONDON, Sept. 28.—The league and covenant against home rule was signed yesterday in London and other cities of the United Kingdom.

Why not get the BIG piece?

Why Don't You Get YOUR SHARE of the PROFITS of Oakland's Prosperity?

Oakland is growing five times as fast as San Francisco. She has added 46,000 people to her population since 1910.

She was the fourth city in the United States in the rate of growth in the last census period.

Eighteen miles of new buildings were erected this last year, or one new structure every working hour.

Seven millions worth of skyscrapers are going up in Oakland's business center.

Why don't YOU, Mr. Man-With-a-Little Money, get YOUR SHARE of the profits of this prosperity?

The merchant, banker and manufacturer ARE getting the profits of prosperity, but if YOUR money is tucked away in a strong box or just drawing the ordinary rate of interest somewhere, you are NOT getting what you OUGHT to get.

SOMEBODY is making money out of YOUR MONEY—but you're NOT.

It's the man who owns REAL ESTATE in Oakland who gets the BIG SLICE of prosperity's profits.

A hundred million dollars will not cover the increases in the value of real estate in Oakland in the next five years!

WILSON ENCOURAGED AT NEW ENGLAND RECEPTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Governor Woodrow Wilson declared today that he felt greatly encouraged by his reception in New England in the last few days.

"I was especially impressed," he said, "by the fact that everywhere great crowds with whom I came in contact and the people whom I met personally seemed to take it for granted that I was elected."

The nominee planned to spend the day here. He will speak at the banquet to be given tonight in honor of National Chairman Wm. J. McCormack by the College Men's Wilson and Marshall League.

HEARING ON PENINSULA RATES IS POSTPONED

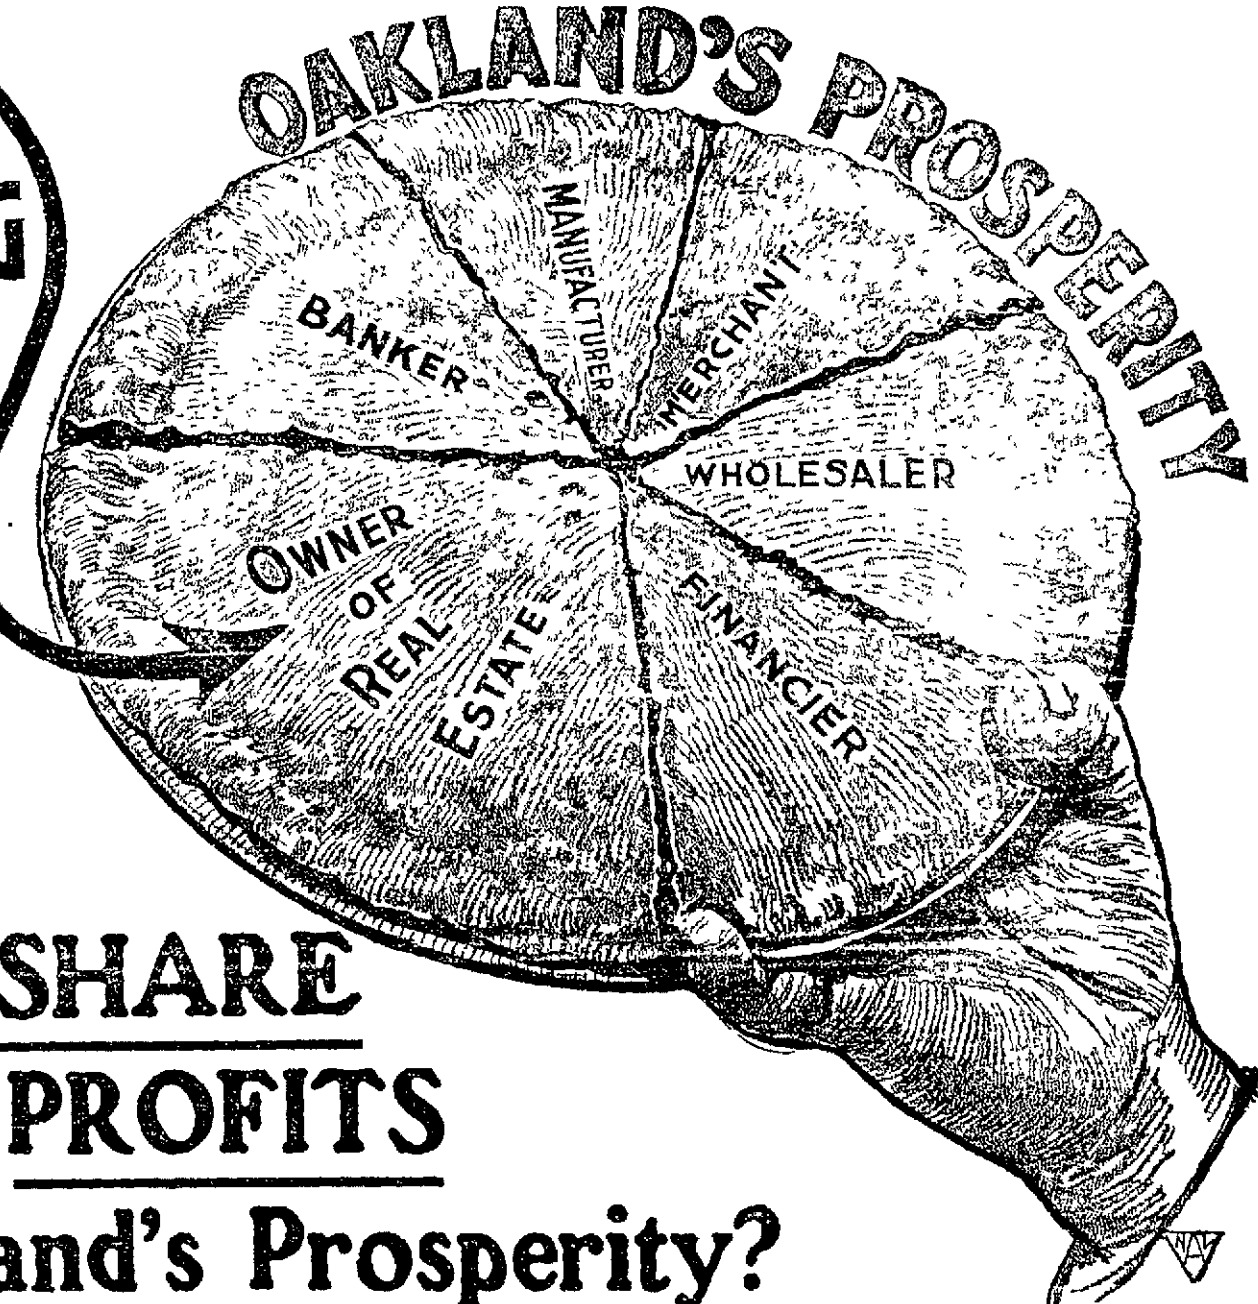

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Because of the absence of President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company and other officials of the road who are attending a conference in Los Angeles, the conference between the railroad officials and residents of the peninsula who are fighting for lower rates between here, San Mateo, Palo Alto and San Jose, was postponed from Thursday until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Last week, when the preliminary conference was held, Attorney C. W. Durbin, who is handling the railroad's end of the rate fight, told the commuters' representatives that it would be impossible to submit the list of reductions by which the company proposes to compromise the case until yesterday. In his interim action to have prepared the scheduled reductions, after having them approved by the officials of the traffic department. Durbin, however, was unable to confer with the traffic men, and for that reason the conference with the Peninsula people was postponed.

VISITING CLERGYMEN TOUR EXPOSITION SITE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The Rt. Revs. O. P. Vangeness, L. C. Foss and J. Norbury, the three visiting bishops of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Church, who are guests of the Convention League this week and who are here for the purpose of making arrangements for the meeting of their synod in San Francisco in 1915, were entertained this morning by the league with an automobile trip over the exposition grounds.

Rev. E. M. Stensrud, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Howard street, was also of the party. At 12:30 the league served a luncheon for the bishops at the Commercial Club and arrangements were made with the Board of Harbor Commissioners to take them in the state tug Governor Markham, for a sail around the bay this afternoon. It is thought that with the Synod of the Norwegian Church meeting here in 1915, and with a population of more than 2,500,000 Norwegians in the Middle West, that many of these can be induced to migrate and settle in California.

PORTLAND TO REPEAL STRAP-HANGERS' LAW

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28.—For the avowed purpose of repealing the recently enacted ordinance providing that strap-hangers on trolley cars shall pay but 3 cents fare, ten councilmen have signed a call for a special meeting to be held next Tuesday.

The ordinance has been pronounced by the Portland Railway Light and Power Company to be physically impossible of enforcement. It was unanimously passed at a recent council meeting without reference to any committee and is admitted by its promoters to have some "rough spots." When the day for its enforcement came the street car people went into the federal court and obtained a restraining order to prevent its enforcement, pending arguments for a permanent injunction, which are now in progress.

SHOOTING FOLLOWED BY PURSUIT AND ARREST

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—On investigating loud voices and a shot in a Chinatown alley early this morning, Policemen Ruggles came upon a group of Chinese who dispersed when he made his appearance. Ruggles gave pursuit and trailed one of the brawlers, who took flight up a stairway. The fugitive turned upon him with a revolver, but did not fire. Ruggles was joined by Officer Hewitt and took a Chinese, Mah Ooi, into custody. He is being held for further investigation by the police.

Our investors find "Syndicate Sixes" to be more satisfactory than mortgages, because they are handled on a business basis and the payment of interest and principal does not depend upon the health or good fortune or energy of any one person or upon the preservation and value of any one piece of property.

Banks are good for the accumulation of money and for checking accounts, but after accumulating a surplus you should invest it in some good 6% proposition.

An investigation will prove to you that "Syndicate Sixes" are about what you have been looking for, because you absolutely control the amount and length of time of your own investment.

T. R. MAKES APPEAL FOR GRANDFATHERS

Don't Vote Way Antecedents Did, Urges Strenuous Colonel.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 28.—Colonel Roosevelt in Alabama renewed today his appeal to the South to support the Progressive party.
"If you are against me," he said in an address here, "I've nothing to say. The man I am trying to reach is the man who is for me, but votes against me because his grandfather voted that way."
"The way for you to honor your grandfather is to face fearlessly the issues of the day."
"I want to see Alabama take its part in national affairs as brilliantly as it has done in the past. This cannot be done as long as you do not face the live issues of the day."
"Time and again, I have championed the interests of the South against your own Senators and Congressmen. Instead of voting for the interests of the South, they kept their eyes on me and voted the way they thought their grandfathers would have voted."

MANY COUNTIES WILL EXHIBIT

Third Apple Annual Will Be Held Soon at Pajaro Valley Fruit Center.

WATSONVILLE, Sept. 28.—Nineteen counties in the state have already signified their intention of exhibiting apples at the third California Apple Show to be held in Watsonville from October 7 to 12. This exceeds last year's record by six counties with prospects of several more entering before the show opens.
The counties that will exhibit apples at Watsonville this year are Santa Cruz, Monterey, San Benito, Santa Clara, San Luis Obispo, Sonoma, Mendocino, Humboldt, Nevada, El Dorado, Mono, Inyo, Riverside, Shasta, San Diego, Los Angeles, Tuolumne, Modoc and Butte. Humboldt county has appropriated the sum of $1000 for its exhibit; Tuolumne has a fund of $750; San Luis Obispo has $300 and the other counties will be represented by attractive exhibits in neat booths.
The arrangement of the exhibit space is such that no one particular exhibit will have any more advantageous location than the rest, so that the counties intend to install feature exhibits. Santa Clara, Monterey, Humboldt and Santa Cruz being in this class. Already eleven feature displays have been signed up and others will be entered with the next week.

WIFE A'GUNNING WENT, IS CHARGE

Woman Champion Revolver Shot Had Eye on Alleged Affinity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Minnie Pack, wife of G. W. Pack, a real estate broker, and former woman champion revolver shot of the Pacific Coast, became jealous of her husband during the time they lived on Sixth avenue, Oakland, when one night, it is alleged, Pack became attentive to Miss Ethel Waldrow. Mrs. Pack, it is charged, loaded her revolver with Miss Waldrow in view as a target.

These alleged facts were set forth in an affidavit filed in the Superior Court by Pack today in reply to his wife's counter suit for divorce. Mrs. Pack now lives in Boston.

Eugenia M. Seftler, Pack's sister, asserts that "there never was any other woman for her brother, that he was devoted to himself and that he had no eyes for any other woman."

'LET THOSE WHO DANCE PAY PIPER'

Requa Sees the Way to Put a Brake on the Recall.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I note in the Enquirer of Monday last an editorial on the subject, "Let the Recall Alone."
The Enquirer apparently objects to any change in the "recall" as suggested in the recent Bulletin of the Tax Association, basing its argument on the proposition that there should be no qualifications of any kind attaching to the right to vote.
I do not urge a property qualification, but at the same time I see no reason why non-tax-payers should penalize others who do pay taxes, any more than I can see any justification for some one appropriating my pocketbook.
If the citizens of any community are really and honestly anxious for a recall election they should be willing to pay the bill, and I therefore suggest as a possible alternative, instead of the number of signatures to the recall petition, that we amend the charter so that the rate payers pay the expenses of the election. In other words, if the estimate cost of the recall election is $15,000, and there are 5000 signers to the petition, they should pay $2.50 apiece, at the time of the signing of the petition, this money to be deposited with the city treasurer to cover the cost of the election.

FAIR PROPOSAL.
This seems a very fair proposal, as it gives the citizen an opportunity to express their dissatisfaction without placing any burden upon the citizens who are content with conditions as they exist.

As a matter of fact, there is a large element in every community that will sign any petition presented to them, regardless of what it may be.
If the signing of the recall petition, however, carried with it the necessity of paying $2.50 for the privilege these promiscuous signers would probably think twice. Such a plan would save the community with the recall as a weapon of defense, for the reason that any citizen having a real grudge could still express it with the same facility as now, and at the same time show the courage of their convictions by paying the bills.
I commend the suggestion to the state as a whole. Why not make it a prerequisite in the signing of any recall or initiative petition that the signers deposit sufficient money with the treasurer to pay the expenses entailed.
It seems to me that those who dance should be willing to pay the piper. Yours very truly,
M. L. REQUA.
Oakland, Sept. 28, 1912.

Senators Discover Need of Uncle Sam's Entrance Into Mexican Territory

American Money Was Used to Finance Madero Revolution, but Not Orozco's

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—The United States subcommittee appointed to investigate relations with Mexico has concluded its work in this city, and while its members are non-committal as to the subject matter of the report they will submit to the Senate committee on foreign relations, Senator Smith says that it will embody evidence showing that since the beginning of the Madero revolution large quantities of munitions of war have been shipped into Mexico across the American border.
The report, it is believed, will hold that the evidence adduced points to the necessity for the United States to intervene in Mexico in order that Americans and American interests receive proper protection.
The committee has been in continuous session since September 1, at which time the Senators left Washington. The investigators spent 10 days in El Paso gathering facts and 10 days in Los Angeles. The remainder of the time has been taken up in traveling.

QUIZ 500 WITNESSES.
The investigators have interrogated 500 witnesses and taken the testimony of 75 witnesses. The testimony covers more than 500 typewritten pages. The transcripts notes will be attached to the committee's report to the Senate.
Speaking of the testimony today, Senator Smith said:
"The testimony of every Mexican whom we interrogated agrees upon this one point:
"That if arms, ammunition and supplies needed in warfare were permitted to enter the country during the Orozco rebellion the same as they were during the Madero revolution, Orozco would have beaten the Mexican City long ago. The rigid enforcement of the law against the admission into Mexico of firearms and ammunition has been Orozco's greatest handicap."

SHIPPED INTO MEXICO.
Analyzed, the evidence shows that during the past two years 10,000,000 rounds of ammunition went into Mexico from El Paso and 80,000 rounds from Los Angeles. It also shows that from El Paso 40,000 rifles had been sent across the border, and from Los Angeles 100. It was further shown that more than 500 tons of dynamite had been shipped into Mexico during the revolutionary periods. The dynamite has been used for mining as well as for the blowing up of bridges. No dynamite is permitted to go into Mexico at the present time.
"A large percentage of the total amount of firearms, ammunition and dynamite," said Senator Fall, "went into the republic during the Madero revolution."

FINANCED MADERO REVOLT.
It is said the evidence proves conclusively that no American money was used in financing the Orozco rebellion, but tends to establish the claim that American funds were used to finance the Madero revolution.
Senator Fall will leave today with Secretary Fred Ireland and it is possible that while in El Paso en route east additional evidence tending to prove that American money was used in the Madero revolution will be obtained. Senator Smith, the chairman, will spend a few days more in the southland and join Senator Fall either in El Paso or Washington, when the preparation of the report and its recommendations will be forthwith commenced. The committee has until January 4 to file its report, but the findings will be transmitted to the foreign relations committee with as little delay as possible.

NEW REBEL MOVEMENT.
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 28.—Consular advice reports that new revolutionary movement has developed at Tampico, a small port between Tampico and Vera Cruz. It is supposed the uprising is connected with other rebel activities, but no direct connection has been discovered between the new movement and the operations of Zapata, Orozco or Aguilar.
What is considered a possible explanation of the partial ineffectiveness of a large part of the Zapatista forces in five recent engagements is published in the Nueva Era, popularly styled a government organ. It is understood that the government tricked rebels into buying 60,000 cartridges loaded with iron glycerine. Tests of some of the cartridges showed that they were of such power as to wreck an ordinary rifle.

TO RECONSTRUCT BRIDGES.
JUAREZ, Sept. 28.—Officials of the Mexico Northwestern railway announced today they would immediately begin the reconstruction of the 200-foot bridge and several small trestles destroyed by rebels apparently with a view to preventing the moving south of this city of any of the federal troops which the Mexican government plans to send from Ciudad Portillo Diaz to Juarez through the United States by way of Eagle Pass and El Paso. The work of reconstruction will be undertaken. It is said, despite the fact that the federal troops are controlling the line nor have the federal commanders offered any escorts for work trains.

It just looks as if some people could be a little bit better informed as to the truth.

How Would You Get Along Without Lehnhardt's Desserts?

Distance lends enchantment! Lehnhardt's Sunday Desserts are sometimes not fully appreciated until it is found that they cannot be procured. For example, one of our regular customers recently moved to Seattle. While living in Oakland she took our Sunday Desserts as a matter of course. Here is what she writes:
"We all miss the desserts we used to get at Lehnhardt's and I'm afraid I do not appreciate them when we had them. The people in Oakland do not realize, any more than I did when I lived there, that Lehnhardt's are really furnishing an exceptional opportunity. We cannot get anything to take the place of these desserts."
Have YOU taken full advantage of your opportunities to get these desserts?
Do YOU realize the time and trouble and expense they save? Try tomorrow's brick. It will be as follows:

YOUTHFUL BANDITS HOLD UP SALOONS

Four Masked Men Line Up the Occupants of Drinking
Resort.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Four masked men, all evidently young, held up the saloon of Henry Cramer, at the southwest corner of Twentieth and Bryant streets at midnight last night and secured in the neighborhood of $30.

George Mantz, the bartender, and three patrons, Abe Goldstein, John Murray and Fred Young, were in the saloon at the time. The robbers entered the front door, drew guns and leveled them at the occupants of the place.

They ordered them to throw up their hands and face the wall, and proceeded to rifle the pockets of all. Only nominal sums were secured. From the cash register the robbers took $25. They then backed out the front door and fled through Twentieth to Protrero, first warning the men in the saloon to make no outcry.

The Mayor's Police Station was notified and instituted a search for the robbers immediately.

When the Herd Hears of the Election

Eastern papers are discussing the annual problem of the cost of the winter supply of coal. That is a problem Californians do not have to solve. The climate here does not make coal the supreme necessity it is in regions where the winters are long and hard and the cold severe. Californians do not have to keep furnaces fires burning all winter long to make their houses habitable. Most of the time houses are warm enough without a fire, and in the cities the cooking is largely done with gas. We do not feel the pinch of the coal baron here, nor the frozen breath of Jack Frost. Come to California.

—BY THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE CARTOONIST.

But the Progressives are not doing all their knifing in the First District. In the Third District they are scheming to defeat Charles F. Curry with a Democrat. In the Fifth District they are supporting J. B. Holohan, a Democrat, against E. A. Hayes. They lost in the primaries, but they refuse to abide by the results. Wherever a genuine Republican is a candidate they are against him. They are for anybody as against Republicans who are loyal to their party.

It may be possible that, at some time in the future, the individual will be viewed as an act of self-destruction designed to protect a bankrupt's creditors. It is absolutely certain that in this age the creditors would be the first to condemn such a tragic scheme to safeguard their interests.

Fortunately, the individual and for the state, we have emerged into a more humanitarian time. A man alive no matter how financially involved he may become—possesses with us far greater value than a corpse, no matter what may

This appreciation of the tremendous power of the individual has been a remarkable feature of our own time and our own government. This power which has made this nation great and has effected a gradual elevation in its concepts of government and personal liberty.

Because of the wonders it has wrought, because man of this era is better equipped to achieve, to substitute the "star" independence of the people the fawning dependence that would be fostered under a paternal government.

CHINESE QUARTER HAS CELEBRATION

First Anniversary of Overthrow of Manchu Dynasty Is Observed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Chinatown is celebrating today its first anniversary of the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty. On every household and pagoda in the Chinese quarter the new national flag was fluttering. It is flown to the breeze for the first time and presents a pretty sight. It is made up of red, yellow, black, white and blue bars.

Thousands of the celebration today will include a grand parade, which the various merchants' organizations will participate. For some time past the Six Companies have been preparing for this event. The parade will perform between 12 and 1 o'clock at Grant avenue and through the principal streets of Chinatown. Conspicuous through its absence, the great dragon, formerly prominent in all Chinese functions, has been relegated to the cellars, and queues shine.

The members of the Young China Association carried out the patriotic program arranged much after the fashion of the Fourth of July celebration. There were three bands in the procession. Following the parade, there was speaking by prominent Chinamen in the tea room of Quong Nan Yoi. Fire crackers were torn and the Chinese people began an all-around safe and sane beginning of their anniversary.

At 8 o'clock the president was followed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Mrs. Daisy Keane. The entire company standing.

Mrs. Gilroy sang the splendid song at each of its annual banquets for the past sixteen years and is a special favorite of the members. The splendid rendition of the national anthem was "Come Back to Erin" McCreok's Gathering.

The popular songs were vociferously applauded.

The toast California was briefly but appropriately responded to by Mr. A. J. McCreok. The toast Carneros was responded to by Mr. J. J. McCreok. The toast The King John L. McCreok delighted the gathering with an eloquent tribute to the king of the hills and the characters who were to be found in the forefront of every community in every civilization.

The toast The Globe was responded to by Thomas Stand, president of the Andrews Society of San Francisco made his response to the toast of "Sisters of the World."

William Moir sang that lovely Scotch melody, Mary in splendid form his beautiful voice and his beautiful face fitted to the song George Hall sang "Gallants of England" in his usual masterly style and Mrs. Annie King Lemon sang the beautiful "Scotland Yet."

As master of ceremonies Alexander C. McCreok presided over the dinner pleasantly and the complete success of the annual banquet of the society is unanimously conceded by its members.

The evening was a brilliant and successful one and the intelligent work and unflinching enthusiasm.

At 10 o'clock the floor was cleared and the company indulged in dancing until midnight.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

Was Income Insufficient?

Consider the case of the Northampton Ameses. Ames is going to the wife. They have been living apart for several months and it has been hinted in these columns that divorce was inevitable. But it was supposed that Ames would let his wife bring suit instead of preferring the charges of desertion himself. It is generally believed that Mrs. Ames suggested that he bring suit, and thus terminate their strained relations, and Ames, who has long given up all hope of a reconciliation, consented.

That only a love match between two people who were most congenial. When Edith Preston made her debut she was an intimate friend in the Ames household. The Prestons had a country home in the Portola Valley, and when the two sisters, Edith and Norma, came to town they were usually house guests of the Ames. Edith Ames, who died recently in London, was their best friend, a constant source of advice and comfort to the family. The Preston girls parted their abode year in the middle by a trip to the Orient, and when they returned, Edith announced her engagement to Worthington Ames and Norma to Willard Dutton. Both girls were accounted great beauties, their father having died about that time, and left an estate valued snugly over the million dollar mark.

But it was not generally known that the entire estate was left to the younger daughter, Edith, and that Mr. Preston's allowance to her children has kept them in taxis, for which they have had to part with their small change of their illusions about the cost of living! Mrs. Worthington Ames has made no secret of the fact that they felt the bite of an insufficient income. And when an income like this, one can usually scratch a divorce! Edith Ames is accounted one of the most capable young matrons in the smart set. She can plan a dinner or make a gown for the minimum amount and the maximum amount of effect. But she doesn't altogether enjoy practicing these economies with such finesse, and apparently believes that her technique is put to altogether too much practice. And so the "Worthington" Ameses found life together unworthy of their desire.

Rumor that Mrs. Ames will announce her engagement after the summer time has caused a great deal of rumor that she is bearing all the expenses, and yet it is not to be dismissed as mere moonshine either. For when the "most beautiful woman" in San Francisco, so catalogued by Bernhard and her beauty doctor, is free, there will doubtless be many knights eager to wear her colors. That any of these dashing horsemen has already entered the race is not given much credence, save by Dame Rumor, who is the most credulous of persons.—News Letter.

The Ecstasy of Arrest

Down the peninsula in the haunts of holier one isn't considered abreast of the times unless arrested for speeding. This fact is causing the authorities of San Mateo county a great deal of annoyance for while they don't object to swelling the revenues of the county through the collection of fines they are on pins and needles lest the speeders do serious or even mortal injury to pedestrians. The speeders appear to have no regard for the safety of those on foot, but the truth is of course, that they are momentarily forgetful under the stress of the joys of modern life. Heaven grant that some patrol maid doesn't have her whole life saddened one of these days by reason of her car maiming or destroying somebody. The latest to be arrested was Miss Lee Glavin. The young lady went to court with some trepidation, glad to escape with a fine. The justice spoke of imprisonment, but relented.—Town Talk.

Considerate Justice

"I do not care to send Miss Glavin to jail, as that institution is hardly in accord with her present mode of living."—Justice Lambkin of Redwood City. "What is he charged with, officer?" The stern-eyed justice cried. "With smoking hop, your honor." "A grave offense," the judge returned. "But justice is forgiving." So set him free—we have no jail. That suits his way of living.

"What was the law that this same man broke?" The magistrate inquired. "He has three wives," the cop explained. "And none has yet expired." "A bigamist!" the judge exclaimed. "With assets of millions." "But let him go—we have no jail. That suits his way of living."

A Splash in the Fountain

R. G. Hanford's home in Pine street is one of the most interesting places in San Francisco. It looks like a castle and is a very up-to-date and luxurious fitted dwelling. Not the least of its attractions is the beautiful garden with its many fountains. Hanford gave a party recently not long ago, and when the jolly party left the guests left the house to enjoy the cool air out of doors. There was some rumpling about the garden, and general admiration of the beautiful fountain with its waters silvered in the moonlight. And then one of the women suddenly jumped into the fountain. Just why it is not known, but it is said that somebody dared her and she seemed to show the water. The guests were all in a state of consternation, and the women who were looking on, in her low-cut evening gown, she was very modern but very bewitching. Everybody enjoyed the sensation except her husband who was furiously angry. "Come out of that fountain at once," he commanded. She leaped a beautiful leap at hubby's discomfiture and answered, "Come in and get me." Hubby didn't go in and get her, but she was finally induced to leave her unconventional home.—Town Talk.

The New Order

Edward Sweeney, the millionaire who has come out of the Northwest and negotiated for the site of the old Occidental Hotel on Montgomery street, vacant since the fire, is the type of hustling citizen who will change the old order of things in San Francisco. The expected, and not the unexpected, is what has happened to the rich people in this city. The fire of 1906 was more disastrous to the rich people with steady incomes from property than to anybody else. When the restoration of San Francisco began it was evident that the real hustlers who had always been able to make a good living would go along just about as usual, but that there were days ahead for the drones who had lived on the proceeds of their pioneer fathers' industry. So it has turned out. Most of those people have disappeared already from society and business circles. They were unable or unwilling to raise the money to restore their property or business, and have given way to more enterprising persons. A new generation is therefore taking charge of affairs. Sweeney from the Northwest is one of the new hustlers, and when we get a lot more like him San Francisco will begin to boom in a style that will make Los Angeles look like "Lonesome Town," and the traffic which will be kept busy regulating pedestrianism on Market street so the people will not trample on one another.—The Wasp.

Has Injured the Street

Delay in improving the Occidental property has done much injury to Montgomery street. The property belonged to Peter Donahue and his sister, who married Mr. Burke, an Irish barkeeper who was noted in fox-hunting circles as the Master of the Tipperary Foxhounds. Peter Donahue was an invalid for years before his death and his sickness caused the loss of his mind. This misfortune led to legal complications after his death and caused the Occidental property to be tied up. The Burkes prefer to live the life of country squires in the easy-going Irish style rather than hassle with building problems and the legal question in the Far West. In Limmerick, one of the chief seaports of the south of Ireland, and about a dozen miles from Mr. Burke's estate in Tipperary, they have not erected any building larger than a six-room cottage in fifty years. Every American tourist knows what Royal Hotel, the swell caravansary of Limerick, looks like. It has been painted only once since the days of Thackeray, the novelist, who slept there in 1843.

Limerick, which is passed on the way from Dublin to Killybeg, and which was a walled town when the adherents of King James II. defended so stoutly against William of Orange that the garrison was allowed to march out with their arms and take service with France. Thackeray stayed at the Royal Hotel in 1843 when writing the Irish Sketch Book, and after reading that entertaining volume one can have no difficulty in recognizing the famous caravansary, for it has had only one coat of paint since. The linen is changed daily and the waiters' dress coats once every ten years. Twice a year this ancient Irish city becomes a bustling metropolis in mid-summer, when the annual regatta takes place, and in the fall, when the population of a dozen counties assemble to see the steeplechases. During the rest of the year sport, politics and the manufacture of lace and bacon are the principal industries, but they never interfere sufficiently with the comfort of the inhabitants to prevent them from dedicating a public holiday to attend a coursing or cricket match.

It is not difficult to understand how a popular squire and master of foxhounds in the social environment of this Irish seaport would lose no sleep over the fact that a piece of family property away out on the shores of the Pacific was minus a skyscraper. Edward Sweeney, who has leased the Occidental Hotel site for $30,000 a year, and intends to build a hotel of 1,000 rooms, is a native of San Francisco who for years has been engaged in various enterprises in Seattle and Alaska. He is a money maker who married wealth. Mr. Sweeney intends to buy a fine residence or erect one, and may conclude to become a factor in the fashionable life of this city. He is related to Matthew Numan, the millionaire brewer, who was formerly sheriff of San Francisco. When Mr. Sweeney's $30,000 a year goes to going regularly across the Atlantic there will be two packs of foxhounds in Tipperary and an extra week's racing at the Limerick steeplechase.—The Wasp.

The Ames Divorce

Divorce is not so frequent in the inner circle of snariness to which Mr. and Mrs. Worthington Ames belong. The members of that clique may have their domestic differences from time to time, but they are usually fortunate enough to straighten them out without recourse to the law. So the separation of the beautiful Mrs. Ames from her husband is of an interest to those quidnuncs who feed on rumors which can only be described as sensational. It is being said now that the divorce was to be expected. "It is not surprising," is heard from many quarters. "It is an interesting observation, but only for the month of those who have the habit of saying, 'I told you so.' Still, they insist that when Mrs. Ames went to Santa Barbara several months ago, 'twas the beginning of the end. Mrs. Ames is the daughter of the late Colonel E. F. Preston by his second wife who was a Miss Baldwin, sister of O. D. Baldwin. She is one of the most beloved of the younger women of society."—Town Talk.

Interesting Bit of News

An engagement which will come as a great surprise will be that of a very popular and attractive girl who makes her home down on the peninsula. She has been engaged so many times that the wedding announcement will be without all the usual fuss and feathers. The lucky man is a very wealthy Easterner who came out here a year or two ago and who now makes his home here. The news of the engagement and announcement of the wedding day are almost simultaneous, and, not wishing to mar the program, The Wasp reserves the well-known names of the happy and prominent couple.—The Wasp.

A Banker's Vengeance

The vengeance of Banker John Beal Snood of Amarillo, Texas, on the man who eloped with his wife, had none of the modern superficiality of sentiment about it. The banker's revenge was implacable and deadly, not alone towards the young man who carried off his faithless wife, but towards the young man's father, a banker, and was very well justified. The feud began last December, when Alfred Boyce eloped with Mrs. Snood, and was traced by the husband to Winnipeg, Manitoba, where Snood caused the arrest of the couple. At the time, Snood swore to kill his wife's companion, but Boyce was saved through the action of the Canadian authorities, who ordered his deportation. The woman was also sent back into the States, but was later found by her husband and forgiven. Snood learned from her that the younger Boyce had been supplied with funds necessary for the elopement by his father, and the banker's wrath was kindled against the latter. On January 13, he encountered the elder Boyce in the lobby of the Metropolitan Hotel in Fort Worth, Texas; without uttering a word of warning he emptied six chambers of his revolver into the old man's body. Snood was arrested and tried, but the jury failed to agree on a verdict, and he was finally admitted to bail pending his second trial, which is to begin on November 11.

With his wife, Snood has been living since his trial at Georgetown, and has never shown himself in Amarillo, where he formerly lived. Young Boyce, after his father's death, turned over his Amarillo ranch to the management of friends and went to Western Canada, where he purchased a second ranch and made his home. A week ago, however, he had occasion to return to Texas upon business. Snood learned of his return and journeyed secretly to Amarillo, dressed as a farmer. He had been there two days awaiting an opportunity to kill Boyce, but had hidden himself so completely that no one dreamed he was in town. He finally obtained his opportunity. As Boyce was strolling past the First Methodist Church with some friends, Snood stepped from the vestibule of the church, holding a double-barreled shotgun under his arm. He confronted Boyce, and throwing the muzzle of the gun against the young man's breast, emptied the contents of both barrels into the victim's body. Then he turned and calmly surrendered himself to a policeman. Snood explained later that he had rented a shanty near the church and had been in wait for Boyce for two days. He declared that he knew Boyce would, sooner or later, visit his mother, who lived close by, and that he determined to "get him" then.

The person whom the horror of this tragedy has struck by the heart is the poor old mother of young Boyce, who has lost a husband and son, and whom the shock has all but killed. Some of the principals in this dreadful affair have been well known in San Francisco.—The Wasp.

Gave a Delightful Entertainment

Miss Geraldine Forbes, who gave one of the prettiest dinner dances of the season for William Pool and his fiancée, Isabel Sprague, is an extremely attractive girl with an abundance of animation. She is the daughter of Mrs. Philip Wales of San Mateo, was a wealthy widow before her marriage to Major Wales, a very distinguished army surgeon with the rank of major. His first wife died some ten years ago, leaving him with five small children to rear, and when the wealthy widow smiled upon his suit the general impression was that the popular major was surely fortunate. Since his marriage he has retired from the army and purchased a beautiful home at San Mateo, where his oldest son, Philip Wales Jr., attends school.

His step-daughter, Miss Forbes, is planning to leave in the near future for the East. She will visit her grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Thornton, in New York, and in Washington will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. James Oxnard. Later on in the winter she will visit the William Poles at their beautiful estate at Warrenton, Virginia, before returning home.—The Wasp.

Judge Flood and the Game Warden

Justice of the Peace "Barney" Flood was at Lake Tahoe on a fishing trip recently. One day he rowed out to a good fishing ground about three miles from shore, a spot which had been pointed out to him by the Indians, and tried his luck. A squall came up and our judicial Isaac Walton had some difficulty managing his boat. He was pretty well fagged out and was thinking of returning when a game warden happened along in a launch. "How many fish have you demanded the warden? 'Can't count 'em now,' said 'Barney,' glancing at the bottom of his boat. 'It's too squally.' The game warden thought he had to deal with a man who had broken the law. 'Then you've got to come ashore where I can count them,' said the game warden with severity. 'I'm afraid I can't get to shore just now,' responded 'Barney.' 'It's too squally.' 'You must come ashore,' said the warden, 'even if I have to tow you.' So he towed the row boat three miles to the shore while 'Barney' sat in comfort, admiring the beauties of Tahoe. It didn't take the game warden long to count 'Barney's' catch; there were just two fish in the boat.—Town Talk.

An Interesting Dinner

Fifty years ago a little girl named Mary E. Davis went to school in Geneva, Switzerland, and one of her teachers was the celebrated Professor Paul Chalk. That Professor Chalk has been dead for many years, and the little girl he taught is now Mrs. George J. Bucknall of San Francisco. But there is now another Professor Chalk. He is the son of Mrs. Bucknall's old teacher, and he came to this city from the University of Geneva as one of the world's distinguished geographers. With him came his son. The foreign geographers were entertained almost exclusively by the professors and members of the University Club, but it was the good fortune of Mrs. Bucknall to give a dinner in honor of the son and grandson of her teacher of fifty years ago. Mrs. Bucknall is a traveling and cultivated woman, and the dinner was a brilliant affair, although extremely informal on account of the limited time the visitors could spare.—Town Talk.

A Surprise to Society

The engagement of Mrs. Julia Rolado Ashe and Paul Davis has come as a great surprise to their many friends. Mrs. Ashe is a very attractive woman, and has had many ardent admirers. In fact, her engagement to one eligible suitor was looked for by society. But a pretty woman's choice is not to be predicted with certainty.

Mrs. Ashe is of the dark type of beauty. She was Miss Dulce Rolado, the daughter of a wealthy landowner who possessed large holdings in the State. Her father, who was the pretty dark-eyed Miss Rolado married in her teens, was a dashing young hawker from Yale, and belongs to the well-known Ashe family, so prominent in the social life of California. Mr. Porter Ashe is his brother, and the late Will Ashe, who married Miss Peters of the wealthy Stockton family, was another brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Ashe lived for some years in Amarillo, where they were extremely popular with all the hillside folk, but Gaston Ashe did not fill his young wife's ideal of a husband, and not so very long after their marriage came their separation.

Of course, being of Spanish extraction, Mrs. Ashe had religious scruples against divorce, and for a time it seemed impossible; but after several years of legal separation a divorce decree was granted, which gave her control of her two sons. "I'll tell you, Judge, every child that is going to amount to anything has got to have a little love. And I know of no institution on earth that can mother a mother's child."

The voice of this woman, uttering its wisdom, was a dry, harsh monotone. All the moisture of her nature had been sucked by some withering heat; that if she would bend her back or arm she would break it.

"You see," she went on, looking into the gray-snowy fog, "I'd work my hands off for them, and they are more to me than life. I've lain awake at nights trying to think out some way—some way to get around this last misery. But there ain't no way. Not in San Francisco."

There is a way to make such tragedies as that of the broken, defeated mother, who is forced to give up her children, impossible of repetition. That way lies directly through the Legislature. It is to find a way to help such women as I saw last week, standing alone on a very Calvary of sorrow and despair; that women like Jane Addams have gone into politics, trusting that by plunging into the turbid waters they may turn others of this nation who are content to float behind the tide of progress into some form of action.—News Letter.

Unselfish Philanthropy

From time to time there come to my notice instances of prominent men doing good by stealth. Some of these instances are of such a kind that it would be unfair to reveal the circumstances, for charity loves its own secrecy. Sometimes too the young man's breast, emptied of the contents of both barrels into the victim's body. Then he turned and calmly surrendered himself to a policeman.

Shed explained later that he had rented a shanty near the church and had been in wait for Boyce for two days. He declared that he knew Boyce would, sooner or later, visit his mother, who lived close by, and that he determined to "get him" then.

The person whom the horror of this tragedy has struck by the heart is the poor old mother of young Boyce, who has lost a husband and son, and whom the shock has all but killed. Some of the principals in this dreadful affair have been well known in San Francisco.—The Wasp.

Broke the Will

Colonel and Mrs. Lincoln Karmany are out here on a visit from Norfolk, Virginia, where Colonel Karmany is stationed with the marines. Mrs. Karmany was the daughter of Mrs. Henry Butters by her first husband, and was very well known here as Georgiana Edwards. She married Dr. Cook some years ago, but married happiness was denied them, and they were divorced. This was the cause of much controversy, for Mrs. Butters disapproved highly of divorce and in her will absolutely disinherited her daughter unless she remarried Dr. Cook. They finally decided to break the will, as this stipulation was utterly impossible, and after much legal dispute Mrs. Edwards Cook got her share of the estate.

Marriage Date Not Set

The marriage of Katrina Page-Brown and Austin Moore will not take place for some time, as the young man is still a student at Yale. Both Miss Brown and Mr. Moore belong to very prominent families, and for that reason the announcement of their engagement has interested Californians a great deal. Miss Page-Brown is the daughter of that famous architect, Page-Brown, who was the first to build the beautiful, artistic residence at Burlingame years ago, when that fashionable abode was just budding. He died before he saw the completion of the work. He was killed when driving a fractious horse at Burlingame. Mr. Brown's family divide their time between New York and Burlingame. Miss Katrina is an intimate friend of Mrs. Francis Carolan, and frequently visited her, and Lucy Page-Brown, the youngest daughter, travels a good deal with Beatrice Miller, Mrs. Bain's daughter.

Story of a Parasol

Several young bachelors have recently returned from abroad. They have come bearing gifts, and some of the recipients of these gifts maintain that if it was good advice to "beware the Greeks who come bearing gifts," it is still sounder advice to beware the bachelors who come bearing gifts.

One of these bachelors is a maiden with a package sent by her sister from the other side. He says she should have known better than to open the package before him. She says he might have warned her what was inside, even if he didn't know. But she says she is perfectly wonderful, and her dreammaker is sending over to Paris for some like them that all her clients may have perfect figures.

To Begin Housekeeping

Mrs. Sam Hopkins (Elvise Schultz) will be to begin housekeeping, and will have her first experience as the presiding deity of a domestic establishment in the big Hopkins home at California and Laguna streets. The senior Mrs. Hopkins is an invalid and has had to delegate her authority for several years now. Mrs. Fred McNear formerly lived with her mother, but she has recently taken a home of her own. The Cheever Goodwins have taken an apartment, and the McDermids have their own house. So Mrs. Sam Hopkins will have full charge of the household. And she will fall upon her young shoulders, but she will have a staff of efficient servants, several of whom have been with the family for a long time, so her cares will not be as onerous as they might be under less favorable conditions.—Town Talk.

Pension Law for Mothers

California should have a pension law for mothers of dependent children. Illinois has passed such a law, and Judge Feltz, library of Colorado has such a law up for passage in that State.

Miss Peters To Dance

Miss Anna Peters is known as one of our most beautiful girls and most graceful dancers. She knows every terpsichorean wrinkle from classic footwork to cake walk and from toe gyrating to Texas Tommy. So I am very sorry that I shall not be able to see her do a Chinese dance at the St. Francis this afternoon. The occasion is the annual jinks of the San Francisco Musical Club, and I shall not be present because none but members are admitted to the mysteries. A Chinese operetta "Feast of Little Lanterns" is to be given under direction of Frank Marshall and Valere Sabien, and the feature will be a Chinese dance in costume by the beautiful blonde Stockton girl. But perhaps we outsiders may see her dance later on; there is talk of repeating the affair for charity.—Town Talk.

To Be Very Quiet

I understand that the wedding of Miss Martha Calhoun and young Hickey will be a very quiet affair. There has been talk of elaborate preparations and of the bridesmaids who were to go on from this city to Cleveland for the ceremony, but this seems to be all wrong. Miss Marlan Newhall was to be a bridesmaid, but will not go to the wedding, perhaps because the plans were changed. She was to go East in company with her brother, young Mayo Newhall, who left last Saturday to resume his studies in Philadelphia. The charming girl, however, is still with us.—Town Talk.

The Vanderbilt Heir

Much general interest has been evinced in the news of the arrival of an heir to the Alfred G. Vanderbilt millions, which puts the small posthumous Astor baby quite in the shade; for this young child of wealth only gets three millions, while the Vanderbilt son and heir finds himself possessed of fifty millions. It almost makes one wonder how young John Jacob Astor Jr. will ever keep up his place in society against such odds. The mother of the Vanderbilt child of millions was Mrs. Smith Tealls-McKinn before her marriage to Vanderbilt a year or more ago. She was one of those restless spirits who served their time in Reno, and when her engagement to Vanderbilt was rumored her ex-husband, Dr. McKinn, contested the legality of her divorce, declaring a Reno divorce void. However, after much bickering and extensive newspaper notoriety, the Vanderbilt millions finally convinced Dr. McKinn that the divorce was bona fide, and shortly after that the beautiful Margaret sailed for London. Vanderbilt followed her on the next steamer, and after a month or more they were quietly married at a small vicarage outside of London.

It is believed that as soon as Mrs. Vanderbilt and her young son are able they will sail for New York, where the whole top floor of the gorgeous new Vanderbilt Hotel on Murray Hill has been expensively arranged for them ever since that famous new hotelery has been completed.—The Wasp.

Goodwin's Case Hopeless

Many conflicting reports have come up from Los Angeles regarding the condition of Nat Goodwin. Perhaps what is the most authentic and reliable information on the subject is contained in a letter written by the great funmaker's friend, John Ernest Warren, secretary of the American Dramatists' Association, who visited Goodwin some time ago on business connected with the publishing of the actor's "Memoirs," which he has been editing for publication this winter. Goodwin is suffering from a fracture of the pelvic bone which was not discovered till two weeks after the accident in the breakers. Since the accident Goodwin's mental faculties have been somewhat impaired. He is morbid and nervous owing to his fear that he will never be able to walk again or appear on the stage. It is almost certain that he never will be able to act again, but the doctors have not informed him of the seriousness of his condition. At present he is able to draw himself up by his arms in bed and use them to change his position, but he is unable to use his legs or feet. Goodwin was to have appeared in this city a month ago as Fagin in "Oliver Twist," but he was unable to make the trip. He was also to have appeared in New York under the management of Oliver Morosini in the first production of Lee Arthur's "The Fox."—Town Talk.

An Elaborate Wedding

October 16 is the date which has been set for the wedding of Miss Hazel Anna Cook and Robert Spain Woodward. It will take place at the Fairmont Hotel and will be one of the most elaborate affairs of the early winter. Miss Cook is the daughter of Charles A. Cook, who is the Fairmont's manager, under Colonel Kirkpatrick. Mr. Woodward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Woodward, who have just built a beautiful new home on Broadway near Broderick. Thomas Woodward belongs to a prominent pioneer family. His father was one of the publishers of the old Alta, the leading daily newspaper of San Francisco before the Chronicle became so influential. Mr. Woodward is a civil engineer by profession, and was City Engineer for several years. Three years ago his old lands were found to be most valuable and they have brought him a great deal of money. He is a very enterprising citizen and among other things has headed the company which built the fine Sutter Hotel, corner of Sutter and Kearny streets.

Robert Woodward's sister, who was a very pretty girl, married Glavin Glenn, an heir of the great Glenn estate in Glenn county, but like many youthful sons of gold spoons in their youth, he proved too fond of the primrose paths, and divorce became necessary to the early tired young wife. She resides with her two children and her parents in the Broadway home of the Woodward family. Robert Woodward has had some experience at West Point, but soldiering did not appeal to him, and he returned to civilian life.—The Wasp.

The Swagger "Stick" Girl

Have you seen the "swagger stick girl" yet? She is here. I have seen her—several of her—lately. The days of the girl with a La Tosca stick, or rather staff, are well remembered. She was picturesque and graceful, with a sort of sinuous grace, but the swagger stick girl is snappy, energetic, military. When I first saw her, I took it for granted that she was a member of some army officer's family, adopting the swagger stick as an emblem of her race, but I was mistaken. She may not have a soldier in her list of friends even. But she is dashing and attractive. When she carries her swagger stick, that little half cane, half baton, under her arm or swings it in cadence as she steps briskly along, she is jaunty as itself. Watch for her. She is the latest.—News Letter.

A Judah Boas Story

One day about a year ago Judah Boas, the stock broker and money lender, met a young man in Market street. "What are you doing these days, Tom?" he inquired. "I'm working in the Assessor's office out at the City Hall," said Tom. Whereupon Judah Boas grunted and went on his way. A few days ago Boas met the young man again. "And what are you doing now, Tom?" he asked. "I'm working in a stable," said Tom. "That's good. You may own the stable, but you could never own the City Hall,"—Town Talk.

Quick Wit a Good Thing

Quick wit is next to being born rich or lucky, for it always stands one in good hand.

A certain prominent young social bud tripped lightly into the office of a well-known real estate man one afternoon last week, and announced that the doorman of his house, which she and her mother had leased from him, needed a new battery.

"Is that so?" calmly queried the owner of the home. "Well, isn't your brother employed by an automobile company?"

The young lady nodded her pretty head and replied in the affirmative.

"What is the matter with him swiping a battery from there and putting it on?" asked the real estate man.

"Well, if that's the way you feel about it, just kindly step from out of your office at four o'clock, and I'll take four-bits all the same, isn't it?" she asked, and she continued the clever tenant, and she continued to smile so sweetly that he could not tell whether the smile, the remark or the truth of the comparison caused his head to swim for a moment. But anyway, the battery, accompanied by apologies, was sent out at once.—News Letter.

Mrs. Zeile in Paris

Mrs. Frederick Zeile is in Paris. Nothing strange about that. But Mrs. Zeile's activities in Paris are exciting the curiosity of her friends. For Mrs. Zeile is spending hours every day in the smart shops of the Rue de la Paix, buying—what do you suppose? Clothes, of course. But Mrs. Zeile's friends here are whispering that the clothes are for a trousseau! It may not be true, of course. One never takes these rumors too seriously. Personally I usually pay no attention to them, but Mrs. Zeile is such a charming woman, so popular in society and has so many friends here who are interested in her activities, that I set the story down for what it is worth. The man who, it is said, may have the happiness of wedding Mrs. Zeile is a professional man of high standing. Mrs. Zeile is the widow of Fred Zeile who died at the Fairmont about a year ago. She is the stepmother of those popular and attractive society girls, Marjorie and Ruth, whose own mother was a sister of Mrs. E. W. Hopkins.—Town Talk.

News to San Francisco

Word has reached us from New York of the marriage of Mrs. Lottie Dutton Wheeler and Wallace Bowes of that city. It comes as a great surprise to San Franciscans, as many people did not know that she had been divorced from her first husband, Walter Wheeler. Mrs. Wheeler was the daughter of one of our pioneer families; her father was Samuel E. Dutton, brother of Will Dutton, and her mother was Annie King, whose father, James O. Williams—as he was called—was one of the most prominent men of our early times. Old Californians will recall his tragic death—how he was shot down in cold blood while sitting on the porch of his home with his family, by the rough political element whom he had been exposing in his paper during that time when law and order was unknown. He left several children, among them Phemie, who is now Mrs. Russell Wilson; Annie, now Mrs. S. E. Dutton, and Joseph King.

Lottie Dutton was a great beauty here some twenty years ago, and her marriage to Walter Wheeler was one of the most brilliant affairs of that time. He was the son of a New York money packer and a cousin of Charles Wheeler of this city, and after their marriage they made New York their home. The news of their divorce has been kept very quiet, and hardly any one knew that Mrs. Wheeler had joined the colony at Reno. Now, with the news of the divorce comes the surprising knowledge that Mrs. Wheeler was quietly married to Bowes on her return to New York.

Mrs. Wheeler Bowes has two children, who will divide their time between their father and mother. Mrs. Bowes' sister has recently married again, too. She was the widow of that fighting chaplain of the First Tennessee regiment who gave up his life in the Philippines—the first to fall, I believe. Her marriage to Colonel Willard French took place a month or more ago in New York, and they are making their home in Washington, where Colonel French has a government position.—The Wasp.

Has Many Friends Here

Lieutenant Conger Pratt, aide to Major-General Murray, has just arrived with the General from Alaska and the Yellowstone. He will be a great addition to society, as he is a tall, fine-looking officer, and has many friends here who remember him when he was a young man at the Fourth Cavalry. He will move to Fort Mason when General Murray returns to his home there, which has been having repairs made, and with his mother, who makes her home with him, will take an active part in the winter gaieties.

Lieutenant Pratt was several years in Washington, where he was one of the social aides to the President, and became acquainted with all the diplomats there. He is the son of General Pratt and a nephew of Minister Conger, who was Minister to China during the Boxer troubles.—The Wasp.

The Cudahys Coming West

It interests local society to hear that the Edward Cudahys are planning a visit this winter to this coast. They will visit the Mack Casserlys and the Brewers of San Mateo. Mrs. Cudahy was Miss Nora Brewer formerly, and has many friends who will welcome her to the coast.

Cudahy is the brother of Mrs. Jack Cassery, and spends most of his time in Chicago, where a large part of his business interests lie. He came before the public eye at an early age, when he was kidnapped in Chicago and held for a large ransom. The case was thoroughly investigated and the extortionists were punished, but young Master Cudahy did not get over his thrilling experience for some time. The Cudahys have a beautiful home in Chicago, on the Lakeside drive, and are very popular in the most exclusive society of the "Windy City."—The Wasp.

The Meddler

THE opening days of the season show a round of teas, receptions and club meetings wonderfully interesting. Across the bay they have all sorts of political meetings, the largest of which was held this week at the Hotel St. Francis, when Gertrude Atherton addressed a large gathering of women in the interest of her favorite candidate. Many of the women did not agree with her at all, but political differences were safely settled over a final cup of tea later in the afternoon.

On our side of the bay the national question has faded into insignificance before the greater one of the danger to our city, which is just being realized by our people. No one a few days ago knew very much about it all, but the campaign of education is going on so briskly, and women are so keen in their perceptions that they are understanding the great danger that threatens Oakland's future, and that would destroy its independence. It is simply splendid the moral support that women give to a fight when there is a question of principle, and in this anti-annexation fight the strongest possible support is being lined up by our women. They are thoroughly aroused, and they are sending out an almost insatiable call for literature. There is a fine spirit in the air, and a civic pride has been aroused that promises well for the future of what bids fair to be one of the greatest of our coast cities.

Everywhere meetings are being held to discuss the question, the problem being to make other counties see their danger as we are seeing ours.

The civic section of the Ebell club, with Mrs. Borland as chairman, is to hold an open meeting on next Tuesday, to which all are invited and a large attendance is expected. The afternoon is under the direction also of the Women's Auxiliary, which has been doing such efficient and systematic work in aiding the great movement to defeat the amendment. There promises to be a large audience at the Ebell club on Tuesday, for there is a very general desire on the part of our people to hear the amendment explained. Many women will welcome the opportunity of going to the Ebell club on Tuesday, for it has been arranged to have speakers there who will explain in what way the amendment is so damaging not only to Oakland, but to the rest of the state.

All women interested in hearing the explanations are most welcome, and at the close of the program tea will be served and there will be an informal reception, where, in friendly fashion, the amendment and the proposed annexation will be discussed.

In the receiving party will be:

Mrs. Frank K. Mott, Mrs. M. L. Hadley, Mrs. Sarah C. Borland, Mrs. William G. Hen, Mrs. Anne Reine, Mrs. Fred Kahn, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. A. A. Denison, Mrs. Charles H. King, Mrs. Frank Woodward, Mrs. Thomas Hogan, Mrs. William Layman, Mrs. H. C. Capwell, Mrs. Frank Leavitt, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. John P. Connors, Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, Mrs. Ethel Moore, Mrs. George Pardee, Mrs. M. M. Smith, Mrs. Nat Crowley, Mrs. Alice Spry, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. A. C. Porey, Mrs. Mark Brown, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. M. J. Layman, Mrs. Joseph Knowland, Mrs. A. S. Layman, Mrs. Mollie Conner, Mrs. Edwin Barth.

The civic tea promises to be one of the most brilliant and most thorough-going important social affairs scheduled for the autumn.

MISS HELEN ACKER IS DEBUTANTE.

Among the brilliant receptions of the winter are always those at which the debutantes are presented. They are full of charm because there is always the sweetness and the happy enthusiasm of youth. For the young girl friends of the bright debutante are there to make her coming out a success and much interest centers around the young girl herself.

So the reception given by Mrs. Nicholas Acker in honor of her sweet young daughter, charming Miss Helen Acker, was one of the most brilliant affairs of the season. The Acker home on Euclid avenue was a fascinating study in lovely flowers, for besides the usual decorations, there were quantities of lilacs of the valley, of orchids and of gorgeous American Beauty roses, all tributes of friendship to the sweet young girl for whom the reception was planned.

She was a charming study in a gown of white embroidered crepe elaborately trimmed in pearls. There was an elaborate adornment of jewels on the waist and also on the skirt, which ended in a short train. Her bouquet was of lilacs of the valley and white orchids.

Mrs. Acker's gown was an exceedingly attractive and effective creation. It was of lavender charmeuse, with an over-drape of rare lace, the bottom showing beautifully planned jeweled trimmings.

A stringed orchestra added to the brightness of the afternoon and delightful refreshments were served, the dining room being a most charming study

In decoration. Among the guests of the afternoon was Mrs. Thomas Watson (Nina Clay), the lovely young bride for whom so many compliments have been planned this autumn.

Among those invited to this successful reception were:

Mrs. Harry Earl Miller, Mrs. Harry Meek, Mrs. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Stuart Huxley, Mrs. Arthur Collins, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Mildred Goodall, Mrs. Vernon Waldron, Mrs. George King, Mrs. Sam Bell Wake, Mrs. Thomas Watson, Mrs. Fred Stratton, Mrs. Nellie Adams, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Katherine Collins, Mrs. Gordon Stimp, Mrs. Anita Collins, Mrs. Charles Rodolph, Mrs. Katherine Bennett, Mrs. George Rodolph, Mrs. Doris Badgley, Mrs. T. A. Hixon, Mrs. Helen Conger, Mrs. Hershaw, Mrs. C. W. Ames, Jr., Mrs. P. C. Foggan, Mrs. Ames, Mrs. May Coogan, Mrs. W. H. High, Mrs. Howard Walsh, Mrs. J. C. Allen, Mrs. Madeline Clay, Mrs. Fretwell Selby, Mrs. Percy Greel, Mrs. Mollie Conner, Mrs. H. C. Capwell, Mrs. A. D. Thomson, Mrs. Dorothy Capwell, Mrs. B. G. MRS. F. K. MOTT PRESIDES AT EBELL.

Mrs. Frank K. Mott presided on Tuesday at one of the most important meetings the Ebell club has had this year, presenting a program that called for the attention of all.

The decorations were exceedingly effective and very artistic, and arranged along lines of Indian decorative art.

MRS. WILLIAM H. POOL, A RECENT BRIDE.

—Habenicht Photo

On the stage was a fine arrangement of pampas grass, as a strong centerpiece, and near by was an Indian tepee. There were rare and artistic Indian baskets and beautiful Indian blankets, and the decorations were lovely, the guests lingering long after the lecture to have many things further explained.

Mrs. Calburn's discussion on Indian costumes and Indian music was wonderfully fine. She is one of the oldest students on the coast in Indian lace and stands on this coast for what Miss Alice Fletcher of Harvard University represents in the East. She is a fine talker and was able to give in forcible, beautiful English, a synopsis of the lovely symbolism lying in the heart of Indian romance and of Indian religion. It was an uplifting address, showing the fine ideal that lies at the heart of primitive religious development.

The Indian songs were beautiful, some of them expressively sad and others full of pathos and sweetness, and the myths and legends of the Indians of our own state were most beautifully explained by Miss Heath. It was a great pleasure to listen to Mr. Carlos Troyer is a Zuni high priest and high in the councils of the Zuni

Indians, having taken the famous test of courage.

Among Mrs. Mott's guests were Mrs. P. A. Hearst and Mrs. Phoebe Ellis of England, who has been Mrs. Hearst's guest for some weeks. Other special guests of Mrs. Mott were Mrs. Ralph, the wife of San Francisco's Mayor, Mrs. J. G. H. Meyer, Mrs. M. Langsdorff and Mrs. Stanton of San Francisco.

Many handsome gowns were worn during the afternoon. Mrs. Mott making a lovely picture in an exceedingly well planned reception gown. She presided with much grace and dignity and the afternoon was a splendid success.

Mrs. Ralph Kinney was the hostess of the afternoon and she also was beautifully gowned and was assisted by a large receiving party. Among the handsome gowns of the afternoon were those worn by the following:

Mrs. A. C. Porey, Mrs. Wallace Emerson, Mrs. Charles Leonard, Mrs. Grace Torrey, Mrs. James G. Allen, Mrs. J. P. Needham, Mrs. Mildred Goodall, Mrs. Harry Parr, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. William D. Davis, Mrs. George C. Carl, Mrs. W. H. Chokering, Mrs. Louis Titus, Mrs. Harry Carlton, Mrs. H. S. Morris, Mrs. W. S. Boyer, Mrs. Mary Alexander, Mrs. Charles Man, Mrs. Huxley, Mrs. Huxley, Mrs. Fred Cutting, Mrs. Phoebe, Mrs. Allard.

the evening's entertainment cards, and there will be tables for 500, for bridge and for auction.

The patronesses who have planned the delightful affair are:

Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. Thomas P. Hogan, Mrs. A. H. L. Hyman, Mrs. E. Gallagher, Mrs. Wm. H. Donahue, Mrs. Wm. R. Leary, Mrs. J. M. Maseau, Mrs. Leon Maseau, Mrs. C. Kane, Mrs. M. Kane, Mrs. C. B. Pendogast, Mrs. Frederick Donahue, Mrs. Leo J. McCarthy, Mrs. J. M. Broderick, Mrs. Thomas Galvin, Mrs. C. D. Maseau.

The patronesses have called to their assistance a reception committee of popular and well-known men, who will aid them in making the evening most enjoyable and a great success. On the reception committee will be:

Hugh Hogan, John F. Smith, William H. Donahue, Ralph Knapp, Joseph Robinson, Ezra Devoto, Leon J. McCarthy, John Maseau, Philip M. Carey, Ernest Yutan, William E. Geary, Oliver D. Hamilla, Neal Harris, George S. Smith, Joseph Harrington, Thomas Healy, William J. Maseau, Dr. John Slavich, Richard White.

The preparations have been so perfectly planned that the charity assembly gives every promise of a brilliant success.

MISS E. A. JOHNSON TO WED PHYSICIAN.

Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Johnson have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Ethel Albert, to Doctor Elmer Ellsworth Brinckerhoff, on the evening of Thursday, the seventeenth of October, at half after eight o'clock, at the Pilgrim Congregational church. The Johnsons have lived for many years in East Oakland, and the Congregational church is only a block from their home. It bids fair to be filled to overflowing with the many relatives and the ushers will be Porter Shaw, Everett Cornell, Henry Snell and Dr. Alvin Powell.

After the wedding there will be a reception at the bride's home for the relatives and the young people, and for the oldtime friends of the family.

MISS VIDA COLLINS WEDS EDWARD ROBERTS.

A very interesting wedding took place at the home of the D. Edward Collins' on Wednesday, when the eldest daughter of the household, Miss Vida Collins, was married to Edward Roberts. The bride planned her wedding along simple lines, and only relatives and a very few intimate friends were present at the ceremony.

But the home was very beautifully decorated with quantities of white chrysanthemums and greens and a stringed orchestra played delightful music. The bride is a very pretty girl of the blonde type, and with most charming manners. She wore a very handsome traveling gown in a shade of turquoise blue, with a hat to match.

A wedding breakfast for about fifty friends and relatives followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left for a wedding trip in the southern part of the state. On their return they will make their home across the bay, where they have taken very delightful apartments.

NEWS OF SMART SET TELLS OF TRAVEL.

CHARITY ASSEMBLY WILL BE BRILLIANT.

Preparations for the Charity Assembly go busily forward, and on next Friday evening there bids fair to be a brilliant gathering at Maple Hall, the occasion having been planned in honor of a very worthy charity—for the orphanage at San Rafael.

Only home they may know. Orphans appeal to everyone—a little boy without a home stirs the tenderest emotions of one's heart. And so the assembly is to be given on the evening of October 4, and the charity is such a worthy one that the patronesses are meeting with a fine response to their call. They have done a very sensible thing also in including for

MRS. DORIS HOPKINS RETURNED TRAVELER.

Among the recently returned travelers is Mrs. Doris Hopkins, who has been spending some weeks in the Islands, and who came home on the last steamer. As the guest of friends she had a most delightful time in the Islands, and her memories of days in Honolulu must, indeed, be very bright ones. Mrs. Hopkins traveled with a party to whom many courtesies were extended, and the Honolulu visit represented a merry round of complimentary affairs.

Mrs. Hopkins, who is very popular here, is planning to return in the near future to her home in Paris. She has lived there a long time, and is one of the most popular Americans who make their homes in the French capital.

Meantime, many compliments are being arranged for Mrs. Hopkins before her departure for the East and Europe. She is planning to leave for New York in the near future, and later she will sail for Europe to again take up her home in Paris.

This evening Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton is entertaining at supper a large number of guests in her home, "Kenton Court," at Linda Vista. NAME OF MISS WHITE TO STAY ON BALLOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Frank W. Sawyer, one of the candidates for nomination to the Superior bench at the recent primary election, will not have his name on the ballot in place of that of Lucy Goode White, according to a decision of the District Court of Appeals yesterday.

Miss White, who received a sufficient number of votes to place her name on the judicial ballot, failed to pass the bar examinations held by the District Court 15 days ago and as a result she was declared to be ineligible for the position she is seeking. Sawyer filed a petition in the Superior Court a few days ago asking for a writ of mandamus directing the election commission to substitute his name for Miss White's on the ground that she was ineligible and that he had the number of votes nearest to her own. The Superior Court, however, denied the writ on the grounds that the primary law does not relate in any manner to the eligibility or ineligibility of a candidate and that her name should remain on the ballot. Sawyer appealed to the District Court asking again for mandamus relief, but the court yesterday denied the application.

Davis, wife of Robert Benton Davis, a New York millionaire, for a monthly maintenance of $5000, pending action for divorce. The court, in its ruling, stated that Mrs. Davis' action in denying Davis from his Riverside Drive home in September, 1908, while he was in the army, was not such a bar to her action as to entitle her to any allowance.

WOMEN FIGHT HARD AGAINST ANNEXATION

RESIDENTS OF COUNTRY DISTRICTS ARE AROUSED

PLAN VIGOROUS OPPOSITION TO PLOT

Danger of San Francisco Plans Realized in All Communities.

"Serious Detriment to State" Is Brand Placed on Measure.

Encouraging news comes from many of the country districts and one of the most prominent women in the county is doing admirable work among the country clubs. In a letter to the Women's Auxiliary she writes:

"I will assist in every way possible the voters of Oakland who are opposed to annexation. We will use every honorable means possible that the voters of our county may see the matter as we do. It seems to me that it is of vital importance to ALL of Alameda county's citizens that the status of our county should remain just as it is. Now we are a tremendous factor in the wellbeing of the whole state, but let us be swallowed by San Francisco and we are lost, for unlike the whale, who gobbled up Jonah, San Francisco will not disgorge Oakland, but instead will digest it and wax fat on our uncomfortable condition."

At a meeting held at 3318 Chestnut street to unite against the annexation scheme a large number of women voters, representing the various churches, social and fraternal organizations, met and organized an annexation club, with Mrs. Tobe Williams, president; Mrs. de Hart, secretary, and an advisory board of five. That the measure was deemed a dangerous one and a serious detriment to the state was evidenced by the strong sentiment opposing it.

The colored women are aroused to the sense of the critical nature of the situation and propose to do what is in their power to assist the Women's Auxiliary in the campaign.

A big meeting will be held by colored women in the rooms of the auxiliary next Friday afternoon.

NAPA IS AROUSED.

The citizens of Napa valley are being aroused to the danger to them of annexation to San Francisco and to the fact that San Francisco and Los Angeles combined could, after annexing surrounding territory, control the state government. Says the Napa Register:

At the general election on November 5 the citizens of California will be called on to vote upon an amendment to the constitution, the purpose of which is to permit the partitioning of four counties—Alameda, Contra Costa, San Mateo and Marin—and to authorize the absorption of their most populous cities and richest revenue producing areas by San Francisco.

This amendment to section 7 of article XI of the state constitution relative to the formation of consolidated city and county governments is to be placed upon the ballot and submitted directly to the electors by initiative petitions, to which signatures were obtained by agents employed by the Greater San Francisco Association.

Alamedaans strenuously object to such consolidation. They do not wish to be annexed to San Francisco. They are fairly well prospered under conditions as they are. They are enjoying growth in population and industrial importance makes them know that they have a future of their own. Independent of San Francisco, which last named city they are not disposed to quarrel with, but on the contrary to wish well.

CONTROL OF LEGISLATURE.

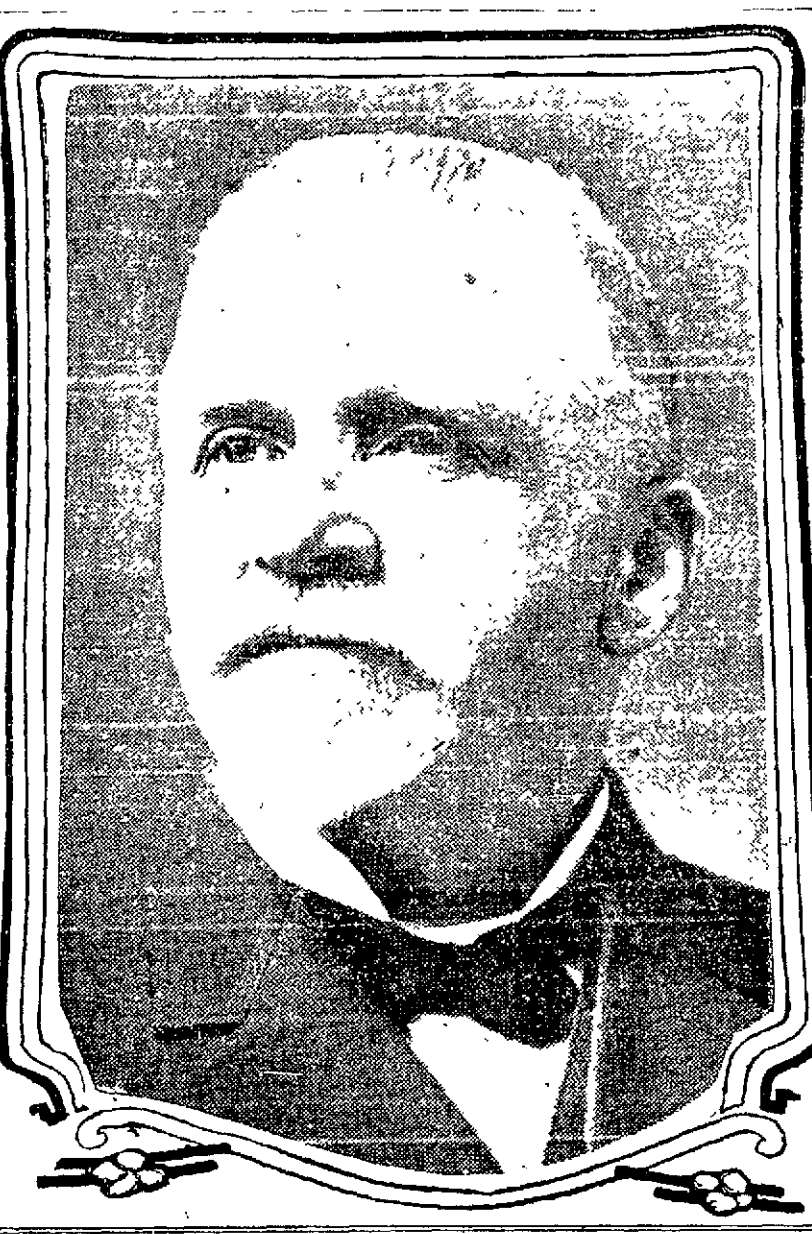

One point made by the Alamedaans—one which should not be overlooked by voters in the interior—is thus stated:

The amendment proposed by San Francisco and opposed by Oakland would permit San Francisco and Los Angeles eventually to secure control of 75 per cent of the state legislature, so that with the addition of a very few votes they would be able to enact special legislation in their behalf and ignore the needs and interests of the interior of the state. It is a very dangerous condition that confronts California, and no citizen of California, with the possible exceptions of San Francisco and Los Angeles, can possibly hope to benefit by it. The safety of the great rural districts and of the great Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys demands that their representatives in the state legislature be not compelled to face the situation of being outvoted by the cities of the coast.

SANTA CLARA IN FIGHT.

In a letter to Senator Frank W. Leavitt, A. A. Dennison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who has been traveling through the southern part of the state in his campaign against annexation in San Francisco, reports that he found much sentiment with him in Santa Clara county and in Redwood city. Dennison interviewed many newspaper editors in an effort to ascertain their views and to convert them to opposition to the annexation scheme.

MAYOR W. H. NOY OF ALAMEDA, WHO IS AMONG THE LEADERS IN FIGHT AGAINST ANNEXATION.

MOOSE GO ON RECORD AGAINST ANNEXATION

OAKLAND LODGE, No. 324, Loyal Order of Moose, at its regular meeting held at its headquarters, Twelfth and Clay streets, fully one thousand of its three thousand members being present last evening unanimously elected Fred A. Campbell, Judge George Samuels and Sam Westworth a committee to draw up and publish resolutions placing the lodge on record against the proposed constitutional amendment on annexation. The committee reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously approved:

"Whereas, The proposed amendment has been framed for the purpose of allowing San Francisco to annex the counties of Alameda, San Mateo, Contra Costa and Marin, and thereby appropriating all the properties, now possessed by these prosperous communities, thereby practically confiscating their water-fronts and the elegant and costly improvements which are now being made.

"Whereas, The proposed amendment will break down the safeguards now existing in the constitution protecting smaller municipalities from the greed of larger ones or the disruption of any existing county through the organization thereof of a separate city and county by substituting a majority vote for a two-thirds vote, thus enabling the crossing of county lines for annexation of contiguous counties for selfish and corrupt ends; and

"Whereas, The proposed amendment is a menace to the best interests of the state, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That Oakland Lodge, No. 324, Loyal Order of Moose, unalterably opposes the adoption of the amendment to section 7 of article XI; that we do hereby denounce the proposed amendment and hereby pledge our 3000 members to not only vote against it, but use every honorable means and exert our influence to defeat the amendment."

The officers of Oakland Lodge are: Past dictator, Sam A. Wentworth; dictator, J. Treager; vice-dictator, A. D. Moffitt; prelate, Harry Andrews; secretary, W. J. Hamilton; treasurer, Dan Reed; trustees: E. B. Jones, W. F. Gibson, A. Goodhan.

Fogel, president of the Philadelphia National Baseball club, in a signed statement issued here today charged that the New York National league team was able to win the pennant this season because it had been unduly favored by umpires. NEW COMMITTEE FOR THE PROHIBITIONISTS

The Prohibition convention at Sacramento elected a new executive committee of which W. J. Hill of Santa Monica is chairman, and Dr. W. C. Bailey of Los Angeles secretary. The claim is made that 30,000 voters in California have registered as Prohibitionists. The new committee is expected to be wholly constructive in its activities. Bitterness and denunciation are to be replaced by a resort to kind and calm arguments to the end of securing the repeal of the liquor laws. The committee will endeavor to win all the anti-liquor forces to the standard of the party. The Alameda county committee holds a ratification meeting tonight at 1128 Broadway and an active campaign for the electoral ticket has already begun in this county.

TWO KILLED; MAY ATTEMPT MARTIAL LAW DECLARED

City of Augusta Declared in State of Insurrection by Governor.

Business Men Are Slain by Militia for Crossing "Dead Line."

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 28.—Martial law ruled in Augusta today as a result of last night's disorders in which two men were killed and one wounded by State Militiamen guarding property of the local street railway company, whose employees are on strike. Five companies of guardsmen were on duty.

The fifth company arrived early today and was placed on duty around the railway power plant. It was in this territory that a "dead line" was established by the militia last night and within which the shooting of three persons occurred.

Governor Brown issued a proclamation last night declaring the city to be in a state of insurrection and ordering martial law.

Alfred Dorn and Robert Christie, who were killed, and Ben F. Baker, who was wounded, are Augusta business men. Christie was driving an automobile and the other two were in a car when they crossed the "dead line" near the power-house. Not until the early hours today was quiet restored.

The immediate cause of the strike was the objection to certain rules of the company. Strike leaders say the company seeks to destroy the union.

Pacific Mail Liner and Cargo Damaged to Extent of $12,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—According to a cablegram received at the Merchants' Exchange this morning from London, through the Maritime Exchange in New York, the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria, which left San Francisco on August 21, was considerably damaged by fire in the dock at Hongkong, where she arrived on September 23. The fire was in the hold, and it was necessary to discharge the cargo. It is estimated by Manager Fry of the company, on latest reports received, that the damage will amount to about $5000 or $6000 to the cargo and about the same to the vessel. The fire has been extinguished, says the reports.

MAY ATTEMPT TO BREAK STRIKE

Test of Strength May Result Between Operators and Union Men.

Workmen Ready to Walk Out in Sympathy, Declares Official.

BINGHAM, Utah, Sept. 28.—The latest developments in the copper miners' strike indicate that action to decide the principal points at issue will be attempted soon, but whether the plans of the operators are for a settlement on a test of strength is a question in the minds of union leaders.

Superintendent J. D. Shilling of the Utah Copper Co. left here early today for Salt Lake City to confer with company officials on strike matters.

The deputy sheriffs were stationed on top of the hill again today. Some of the miners are inclined to interpret this as the first movement in a contemplated campaign.

Tanco Terzich, executive board member of the Western Federation of Miners, came Salt Lake City this morning and assured the men who are out that the unions are ready now at any time to declare a general sympathetic strike.

"Members of the crafts," said Terzich, "are with us more solidly than at any time since the strike started."

The prevailing quiet here has not been interrupted.

MERELY ACCIDENT THAT SHE'S ALIVE

Wife Says Spouse Forgot to Throw the Cartridge in Pistol.

Automatic revolvers and steel hammers in the hands of displeased husbands sent two wives into the divorce court with pleas for annulment of their bans. Mary J. Crabtree asked the Superior court today to divorce her from Charles E. Crabtree, explaining that her husband placed an automatic revolver to her head and pulled the trigger. She attributed the fact that she was still alive to her husband's failure to throw a cartridge in front of the hammer. She was granted an interlocutory decree.

Edna L. Davenport declared that she was compelled to jump out of a window to escape the murderous frenzy of her husband, Fred D. Davenport. She said that he pulled her out of bed by the hair and threatened to cut her over the head with a hammer. She also was granted a decree of custody of two children and $25 a month alimony.

Della Trelease was granted an interlocutory decree from William T. Trelease for desertion, and Annie E. Emerson obtained a decree from William T. Emerson on the showing that he had accepted money from another woman under promise of marriage a few days before marrying her.

Flora Boynton was granted a decree from Wesley E. Boynton on the grounds of habitual intemperance. Laura E. Lovelidge began suit for divorce in the Superior court this morning against her husband Chester E. Lovelidge, alleging extreme cruelty. She seeks custody of minor children and $18 a month alimony. Mrs. Mary L. Reese was granted an interlocutory decree by Judge Waste this morning from her husband, C. M. Reese, on the ground of desertion.

Deed of Heroism Brings Damage Suit

Southron, Who Fought Bandits, Accidentally Shot Innocent Man; Is Sued.

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal., Sept. 28.—U. W. Hall of this city is defendant today in a suit for $10,000 as a consequence of his pervious on January 13 when, single-handed, he gave battle to a band of robbers and put them to flight after they had looted the local bank and were about to make away with a large sum of money. Hall opened fire on the robbers with a shotgun and while he was in action a fisherman named Bradley Tremble got in the line of fire and received a charge of bird shot. Tremble entered an action against Hall, asking for $10,000 for the damage done him.

ALLEGED BANK THIEF DENIES IDENTITY

"You Don't Know Me," He Cries as He Glares at His Woman Accuser.

Detectives Declare There Has Been a Mix in Bertillon System.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—Frank West, the alleged bank robber with two aliases who is being held here in connection with the Canadian bank robbery, will have a fund of $10,000 here within the next two days, according to his attorney, who was employed today. The attorney said he had been instructed to employ every legal resource if any injustice is being done. West is being held on a charge of attempted murder, but if he makes an attempt to obtain freedom by legal procedure a warrant charging the alleged robber with being a fugitive from justice will be asked.

CHICAGO WANTS MAN.

The St. Louis police are eager to send the prisoner direct to Canada, and if he is identified positively as one of the Canadian bank robbers he will be sent direct to Canada, regardless of the demands of the Chicago police, who have had warrants issued against the man.

Lula Wilson, a young woman, arrived from Chicago today and confronted the prisoner held as Frank West, who while in the presence of the women was guarded by four policemen and handcuffed.

"You are Doc Danzell. You are the man that struck Lieutenant Burns with a piano stool in the Sunset Saloon in Chicago when he tried to arrest you for the Canadian bank robbery," said she to the prisoner.

The prisoner was told by detectives to take a seat in front of Miss Wilson. He took the seat and glared, then said:

"You've got the wrong guy. You don't know me."

"Oh, yes I do," said Miss Wilson. "I've known you for a year. You are the man all right."

DENIES KNOWING WOMAN.

After shaking his head again denying that he had ever seen Miss Wilson, the prisoner was led back to his cell. While the prisoner insists that his name is Walter Stacey, the records of the local Bertrams office show that he is J. C. Adams, according to an announcement today. The detectives insist that a mistake has been made by Bertillon officials in other cities and that the description of Frank West has been entered on the back of the picture of Adams.

San Francisco police were notified and the prisoner was returned here yesterday afternoon. He was charged with victimizing Ed V. O'Brien of 48 Pine street, on September 15, and passing a check on him for $15 on the Seaboard National Bank.

The disguised highwayman stepped from the sidewalk directly in front of the automobile, compelling Dr. Polly to stop the car to keep from running over him. The highwayman stepped from the glare of the automobile lights, presented a pistol, and commanded the occupants of the car to hold up their hands. An approaching car frightened the robber away, and as he ran he gathered up his skirts, displaying a pair of trouser legs.

VISIT IMPORTANT.

VIENNA, Sept. 28.—Addressing the Austrian delegation today, Count Leopold von Berchtold, the foreign minister, said he considered the recent visit of Sergius Sazanoff, the Russian foreign minister, to London for conferences with King George and Sir Edward Grey of the highest importance and calculated to promote the objects that Von Berchtold had in view when he invited the power to exchange ideas on the Balkan question.

It is stated that Austria and Russia again have warned Bulgaria that if she disturbs the peace it will be on her own responsibility and that she can expect no support.

TENSION IS GREAT.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The tension between Bulgaria and Turkey is an extreme that a week may decide whether there will be peace or war, says the Sofia correspondent of the Times. The correspondent adds that the Porte's explanations concerning the concentration of Turkish troops in Adrianople have failed to satisfy Bulgaria.

ALAMEDA TO WAR ON ARGENTINE ANT

City Government Will Inaugurate Town-wide Campaign to Fight Pests.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 28.—Warfare on the Argentine ant is to be waged by Alameda in conjunction with similar campaigns of extermination in Oakland and Berkeley. At the council committee meeting last night the question was considered at length and it was determined to ask Alamedans to take up the fight against the pest under a general plan of a town. Councilman A. L. Morgan, chairman of the health committee, was directed to outline the plan to the city council and health committee. It will be announced to the public and general war on the ant will be started.

Councilman William Hammond Jr. presided at the council committee session. Council President E. B. Bullock having been called to Tacoma. He was granted 15 days' leave of absence.

Street Superintendent V. M. Frodden reported that many property owners had heeded notice to clean up sidewalks, gutters, etc., but that others had made no move to clean up and would be given notice that the city would do the work and charge against the property for the expense incurred.

The committee endorsed the action of the harbor commission in rejecting the Crowley tender for the city's waterfront property. The committee also approved the chamber of commerce to exploit the terminal site for a big shipping proposition and will lease on favorable terms.

City Attorney S. S. Sore is preparing a new billboard ordinance, calculated to restrict and regulate the billboard in Alameda. The new measure will provide that all billboards be 25 feet back from the property line, and at least 15 feet distant from any building. The license committee has recommended that such ordinance be prepared.

Next Tuesday night the council will pass the ordinance increasing the pay of the poundmaster from $125 to $150 a month. The finance committee was instructed to investigate the possibility of the purchase of a fire department house urgently needed to keep the present apparatus in active commission. Councilman Krumb remarked that the commission, he had heard, paid $250 for a horse two years ago, which had since died.

Councilman William Hammond reported that the Oakland Traction Company had changed its Santa Clara avenue car schedule to a varying route, calculated to better accommodate traffic. During the rush hours cars are operated on an 8-minute schedule, and at other times on 15-minute intervals during the short period of extremely light travel from 5 to 6:30 in the morning. The former schedule was a 10-minute interval scheduled throughout the time the service operated.

The public utilities committee will investigate a complaint made by R. Holden of 234 Washington street, that he was charged an excessive fee for the installation of a telephone in his home. He told the committee he had to pay $5.

Councilman Probst wished the committee to take notice of the question of home rule and taxation. The high school palms, about which a new tree war is raging, were referred to the street committee. The Alameda Civic Adornment League wants the palms removed. The Adornment Club, which planted the trees, wishes them retained. The board of education, between two areas, it sitting tight and saying little.

A night poundman has been engaged to take untrapped dogs. Two owners in numerous cases are muzzling their dogs in the daytime and taking chances on their escaping capture in the dark hours by removing the muzzles at night. A night poundman is engaged on the remedy. Poundmaster Grant Hicks reported that he had caught 10 unmuzzled dogs one night in an after-dark raid.

HARBOR BOOSTERS TO ORGANIZE AUXILIARY

RICHMOND, Sept. 28.—As an aid to the campaign of education among the people on the harbor, tunnel and wharf projects, the members of the board of trade have organized an auxiliary body to be known as the Harbor Boosters. City Attorney Lee D. Winder, who is also president of the board of trade, said last evening:

"The board of trade, with its new harbor booster body, the auxiliary organized to assist in the campaign of education and the carrying of the harbor bonds, will devote the greater part of its time for the next month to the details of the campaign. If there is any opposition to the projects to make Richmond one of the great harbor points on the bay I have not heard of it. We propose to make this election as nearly unanimous as possible."

MOTORMAN MUST STAND TRIAL

Automobile Party Declare That He Did Not Sound Bell as Ordinance Demands.

BERKELEY, Sept. 28.—Judge Edgar decided this morning that Motorman R. Doan of the Key Route line must appear before him for trial October 5 on the charge of violating a city ordinance by not ringing his gong at crossing. Doan's train smashed into an automobile party at the Alameda September 2 and injured most of its members. Doan was held chiefly on the evidence furnished by Manuel Rose, chauffeur of the wrecked car, employed by H. F. Levels of H. F. Levels, who was in the automobile at the time Miss Nellie Barracough of Honolulu, Captain and Mrs. H. C. Houdette, George Whitney and R. P. Phelps.

Miss Barracough was worst hurt of the party, all of whom had to be removed to hospital following the collision. Members of the party all deny that the train sounded its whistle or bell.

Doan was arraigned yesterday. Setting of the date for trial was postponed until this morning when C. Chalmers, attorney for the company, could appear in his behalf. Doan has been released on $100 bail.

San Francisco Society

Mrs. M. Wood, the Misses Lola and Dorothy Wood, will leave for an eastern trip this week, when Mrs. Wood will place her daughters in a finishing school in New York.

The hospitable Family club farm in Menlo Park is in readiness for the reception of the guests who will leave town this evening at 7:15 o'clock from Third and Townsend streets for the entertainment which the club talent will give to raise a fund for a Portola church.

The special will stop at Redwood and San Mateo to take on a large number of society parties who are en route to the village. To return the visitors to town in good time, the train has been scheduled to leave Menlo at 10:55.

A merry party of young people are leaving today for Napa county, where they are going to spend the week-end as the guests of Mrs. John Darling, who is enjoying the beauties of Stage's Leap, the Chases' beautiful country home, they are going a-camping in one of the nearby canyons. Included in the party are Miss Janet von Schroeder, Miss Merritt Reid, Miss Les O'Brien, Miss Martha Foster and a number of guests, who are equally enthusiastic about the great "out-of-doors."

Corn flowers and Cecil Breuner roses were effectively combined to decorate the table which Mrs. John Darling presided when 12 of her friends were bidden to meet the Misses Ruth and Edith Slack at dinner last evening. The honored guests were the Misses Ruth and Edith Slack, Judge and Mrs. Slack, with whom they have just returned from Europe. Others at last evening's entertainment, which was as successful as the previous one, were Mrs. Charles Maud, Miss Ethel Graham, Miss Augusta Rute, Bradley Walbridge, Miss Helen Cogan, F. W. Denham and Cyril Wynne.

Ho, for the Family club! All the smart set are following the flight of the park to Woodside today to attend the vaudeville that is to be given for the benefit of the Portola church. It will be held in the grounds surrounding the edifice, which was erected last year through the efforts of the club and the patronesses who are sponsoring the affair. The entertainment promises to be a very good one. Mrs. Harris will be stage manager and one of the performers are Ray Beall, Waldemar Young, Frank Hooper, Richard B. Folger, Charles Dickman, Seth Mann and Louis Eaton. The patronesses, all of whom are inviting friends to see the performance, are Mrs. Joseph Donohue, Mrs. Laurence Harris, Mrs. Edward Byrne, Mrs. Jack Casserly, Mrs. Edward Barron, Mrs. Percy Byrne, Mrs. Eugene Lent, Mrs. Andrew Welch, Mrs. George Whittell, Mrs. C. D. McGettigan and Mrs. Robin Hayne. The church will be decorated tomorrow by Archbishop Riordan, and many will stay over for the week-end.

Playwriting is society's latest fad. Miss Janet von Schroeder and Felton Atkins collaborated with such success last winter that they are being called upon to write a drama which will probably be produced at one of the local theaters later in the season.

At the camping party given by the Misses von Schroeder and their brother, Heinrich von Schroeder, a few weeks ago on the outskirts of their estate near Lub Quintero, the members of the club staged a play that was given with the elaborate stage setting of one of the spectacles at the Bohemian grove. It was an allegorical play, with Miss Lee Odette and Miss Janet von Schroeder playing the leading roles.

William Tevis Jr., after a visit of several days with the Horace Blanchard Chases at Stag's Leap, has returned to the city, but will spend a large house party who will spend the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sharon at Menlo Park.

Rear-Admiral Urel Sebree and Mrs. Sebree are at the Fairmont Hotel, awaiting the arrival of their friends, and to the regret of their many friends, not fairly here for long, as they are en route in New York City.

One of the elaborate dinners of Thursday evening was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rice Bostwick, whose guests assembled about 10 o'clock, and were Captain and Mrs. William Lawson of England.

Among others present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marshall, Judge and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Emma Hunt and Mr. William Davidson.

Davidson and Mrs. Lawson are stopping at the Fairmont during their sojourn here, which will be brief, as they intend returning to England.

Next Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick will preside at a dinner in compliment to Mrs. Bostwick's birthday, which will be celebrated on this interesting occasion.

From Madison, Wis., comes the news of the wedding of Miss Emily Owen and Barry Cerf, which took place Friday, September 13, at the home of the bride's parents, Professor and Mrs. Edward Owen.

Barry Cerf has many number of friends here, who are joining in congratulating him. After his graduation from the University of California, he went to Harvard Law School, where he became a member of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin. He is a brother of Marcel Cedric and E. D. Cerf of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sprague are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Pool at their country home near Menlo Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Pool (nee Sprague) have been homecoming in the southern part of the state, and at the Von Schroeder home, which they arrived a few days ago.

On Monday afternoon will be held in the new house who are leaving for Warren, Va., where they intend to reside permanently.

STUDY CIVIL SERVICE PLAN

Members of Sacramento Commission Inspect Oakland System.

Members of the Sacramento civil service commission, newly appointed, in the capital city, were guests of the Oakland civil service board yesterday afternoon. As a result of the inspection of the Oakland system, which is one of the pioneers on the Pacific coast, in adequate civil service, the Sacramento board will send its secretary to study the Oakland system under Secretary W. S. Cox of Oakland for a month before installing civil service in Sacramento.

The three members of the Sacramento board were entertained by President H. S. Robinson and Secretary W. S. Cox of the Oakland commission. Joseph H. Stearns, president of the Sacramento board, expressed his pleasure over the courteous treatment received in Oakland. His two fellow members on the board are Lester J. Hindsdale and Thomas A. Cody.

Secretary W. S. Cox has been asked to explain the system and details of civil service to the Alta Mira Club, a women's club of San Leandro. Cox will address the club October 14.

Prevention and Cure

A preventive beats a cure any day. It does away with worry and saves work and trouble. The housekeeper's attention is called to a number of things that get rid of dirt but to very few that prevent it.

Now gas, as a means of cooking, is not only the greatest of household conveniences, but it is a great preventive of work. Cooking with gas saves time, work, worry. It is quick, clean, efficient.

The housekeeper who cooks with gas is spared many petty annoyances. She can have a strong, even heat at a moment's notice and a "cold stove" in the same length of time.

Is "Pacific Service" in your home Mrs. Housekeeper? Are you depriving yourself of a luxury and convenience that can be enjoyed at a small cost? If your kitchen is not equipped with the facilities for cooking with gas you are causing yourself a lot of needless work.

Phone or send a postal for full information.

"Pacific Service" is "Perfect Service."

NEW AIRSHIP TO FLY AT RICHMOND

Inventor Perfects Machine He Hopes Will Be Entirely Successful.

RICHMOND, Sept. 28.—After working for over a year in his machine shops in this city J. S. Froberg, president of the company of his name, has completed the hydroplane he invented a number of years ago, after research work and study for eighteen years, and preparations are being made today to transfer the completed airship to the bay shore, either on the Owens or Meeker tracts, where it will be tried out and thoroughly tested as a flyer. The machine is built to use both in the air and on water and has many new features, both as to flying efficiency and safety which have been incorporated in no other flying machine. Froberg expects if the tests on the machine prove successful to revolutionize aerial navigation. The tests will probably be made tomorrow and as many local people are interested, financially as well as otherwise, many will be on hand to see the realization or failure of their hopes.

RICHMOND CHURCHES TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

RICHMOND, Sept. 28.—Details for the annual entertainment of Our Lady of Mercy and St. Mark's Catholic churches of this city to be given in Maple Hall Saturday, October 19, have been completed and the program promises to be very attractive. There will be some of the best local talent as well as several high-class entertainers from San Francisco on the list. The church workers are hard at work selling tickets and Father Griffin is to give a valuable and rare picture to the one accomplishing the most along that line. Following the program the gathering is to be turned over to the members of the Young Men's and Young Ladies' institutes and dancing will rule for a couple of hours. A one-act play will be given, special music has been provided and it is anticipated that the entertainment will be a great success, both financially and in point of attendance.

NAP AND CAP SPLIT

A DOUBLE-HEADER

DOWN SOUTH

So Neither Team Makes Any Gain on the Bunch That Hails From Oakland.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—Los Angeles and Vernon played two games of ball yesterday and split, which started in a controversy over the fact that each took a game. Five thousand noisy fans witnessed the double header and seemed to impartially cheer the combatants. This makes the series four to two, in favor of Vernon, and the optimistic Hogan says if he can win seven out of the eight he played he will out of Oakland after the season ends.

Hitt was dominated heavily for the Villagers in the first game, but he was not easily hit and was taken out at the end of the sixth and put in to send them over. Thirteen hits were scattered by both teams, but Vernon used them to better advantage and won.

McCauley started the game for the Angels and Hitt ended it, but both were valuable to a distracting degree. Los Angeles started things by taking two runs, but the pace was too fast. Hogan revolved single with a single, but Hitt's single to right and Moore went to the outfield and scored. Hogan grounded out.

In the third Hitt singled infield and McCauley forced Hitt to hit. Hitt's single to right and Moore went to the outfield and scored. Hogan grounded out.

Hogan selected Baum to pitch the second game for Vernon and Dillon put in Vernon to toss the ball. The game only went five innings on account of darkness. Vernon was shut out and the Angels grabbed enough runs to win. Score: Vernon, 1; Los Angeles, 0.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Adds Healthful Qualities to the Food

Prof. Prescott, of the University of Michigan, explains why Royal Baking Powder adds healthful qualities to the food.

Testifying before the Pure Food Committee of Congress, the Professor stated that fruit acids were excellent articles of food and that of these cream of tartar, the acid of grapes, held rank with the highest both in itself and its effect in the process of leavening and baking. He regarded the results from cream of tartar baking powder as favorable to health. Scientists and hygienists are in accord with this opinion.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar.

PREPARE MAPS FOR POSTMASTERS

Heads of Offices to Be Given Time in Which to Study Parcels Post Rates.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Preparation of special maps with zone circles marked off in red, for use of postmasters in determining rates on parcels post packages is being rushed by the postoffice department. The maps, 125,000 of which are to be printed, will be taken from a so-called flawless map of the United States coast and geodetic survey. The necessity of obtaining a perfect map is to prevent the slightest error in computing postage, as such would make a considerable difference in the rate from many given points.

HEDGES READY FOR ORIGINAL CAMPAIGN

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Job E. Hedges, Republican candidate for Governor, said today he was going to take 24 hours' rest and then jump right into an active gubernatorial campaign. "I am going to tell of the human nature of this campaign as I understand it," said Hedges. "Ninety per cent of the things that have been said in politics this summer never should have been uttered. I am going to tell the truthful story of what people want to know in this connection, regardless of all convention and traditions. And I am going to tell it all in good humor."

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of becoming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the time. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers.

VICTIM OF NATIVES' TORTURES IS DEAD

YOUNTVILLE, Sept. 28.—Elmer Honeyman of Troop A, First Nevada Cavalry in the war with Spain, died in the hospital at the Veterans' Home yesterday.

The trooper was held prisoner for eleven months in the mountain fastnesses by a band of barbarous insurgents. The cruelties meted out to the American soldier were unspeakably atrocious.

Lieutenant Gilmore of the United States gunboat Yorktown and his Yankee sailors were also subjected to the same merciless treatment. Honeyman's lower extremities were completely paralyzed and his health shattered.

Frequently he recounted the methods of his punishment, the most heartless being the "spread-eagle" torture, whereby the savages stripped him and smeared his body with molasses.

STREET WAIF HEIR TO VALUABLE RANCH

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—Tom Hughes, 16 years old, who has been a ward of the juvenile court for several months and who has devoted all of his life to a search for his mother, was told by court officers yesterday that he resided near Stockton and that he was heir to a 12,000-acre ranch in that section.

Tom's father took him from the family home when he was a baby, following a period of domestic trouble. It was said later the boy was separated from his father and became a waif.

For years he led a haphazard existence, caring for himself and searching for his mother. He was taken up by juvenile court officers, who yesterday apprised him of the success of their efforts. Arrangements were made for him to go to his mother's home.

BANKER KAHN DENIES HE WILL LEAVE U. S.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—"I do not intend to occupy Mrs. Malvern Drummond's house which I bought with furnishings last March until next year," said Otto Kahn last night. "I shall spend my time here at Calverton Park, which I leased from Lord Essex. The purchase of the house does not indicate my permanent residence in England. The reason is simply this: I hope every year to be able to spend six weeks in England with my family. I dislike his mother's own country of my children. It is impossible to maintain proper discipline over them there. Their studies are interfered with, and the atmosphere is too careless."

MARE ISLAND TEAM WINS RIFLE MATCH

Pick of North and Islands Are Defeated by Men From Vallejo.

VALLEJO, Sept. 28.—The rifle team of the marines stationed at Mare Island navy yard, commanded by Lieutenant W. T. Waller Jr., won the three days' rifle competition on the target range at the Bremerton navy yard according to dispatches received at Mare Island yesterday. The rifle teams competing were those from the marines stationed at Honolulu, Bremerton and Mare Island.

The victors scored 2,433 out of a possible 3,000 points. Three members of the Mare Island team will be among the four selected from those participating in the meet to compete in the international marines shoot. The men will be chosen in accordance with the best individual percentages made at the Bremerton range.

The collier Justin, which arrived at San Diego Thursday, sailed for Mare Island this morning, according to dispatches received at the navy yard.

The decks of the cruiser South Dakota are to be recaulked at once, the work having been authorized by the navy department.

Orders have been issued at the navy yard that the repairs to the Yorktown are not to be completed until March 1, 1913. The general overhauling of the gunboat has been in progress, and the order which will delay the completion of the work is owing to the fact that all vessels in commission are to be given preference in the matter of repairs.

WOULD RID U. S. OF DEFECTIVE

Van Wagenen Declares 10 Per Cent of Population Is a Useless Burden.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Ten per cent of the population of the United States is permanently defective and is an economic and moral burden on the other 90 per cent, and should be eliminated from society, asserted Eleecker Van Wagenen of New York, in speaking yesterday to the International Congress on Hygiene and Demography. Efforts should be made, he said, to get rid of defective methods of breeding of the following nine classes: Paupers, feeble-minded, those of criminal tendencies, epileptics, insane (except acute not hereditary), those constitutionally weak, those predisposed to certain diseases and those having defective sense organs.

Professor Maurice A. Bigelow of Columbia University, New York, said sex hygiene should be taught in the schools and that even if an occasional mistake were made by this method it would do far less harm than to allow children to get their information on sexual matters from improper sources.

Users of alcohol are most subject to tuberculosis than others, said Dr. Jacques Berillon, chief of the bureau of municipal statistics, Paris. Every one knows, he explained, that alcohol attacks the liver, but twice as often it attacks the lungs and he cited statistics showing that among men of from 35 to 45 years of age consumption caused the death of more than twice as many drinkers as non-drinkers.

Dr. William F. Boetzel said that alcoholic workmen between the ages of 25 and 44 have more than three times as many accidents resulting in injuries as all other workmen put together.

RECONSTRUCTED LINER WILL BE BATTLESHIP

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Olympic, which leaves here today for Southampton, will not appear in New York harbor again until 1913 is well under way. The big liner has been ordered to the shipyard at Belfast, where she will be held up for six months and reconstructed according to the new rules of the British Board of Admiralty. A battleship stern is to be placed upon the liner and a new interior hull built around her.

Militant persons who heard this news yesterday refused to accept the explanation offered by the White Star line officials that the effect of the battleship stern had been ordered to protect three twenty-five-ton projectiles from the terrible backward action produced by their speedy revolutions. A militant declared that the construction is merely the first step in the complete conversion of the vessel into a merchant marine for war purposes.

How the Sandwich got its name

It was named after John Montagu, Earl of Sandwich, when on one occasion not wishing to leave his place at the gaming table, called a waiter and ordered some slices of bread with ham between them to be brought to him so that he could go on playing without interruption. He was born in 1718 and died in 1792, and became famous as the inventor of sandwiches about the middle of the eighteenth century.

97 CENTS A DAY FOR GUARDSMEN

State Militiamen to Be Paid for Participation in the Maneuvers.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28.—The National Guardsmen who participated in the August maneuvers about Coyote will receive 97 cents per day from the state for their services, according to announcement today from Adjutant-General Forbes.

This announcement settles the groundless complaints made by the militiamen when they returned from the maneuvers that they would not get their pay from the state because the announcement had been made for other purposes. They were supposed to have received $1 per day, but the failure of the railroads to get the men back before midnight on the 21st of August has cost the state an extra day's pay to each man. The federal government paid each man 50 cents a day. This was paid before the men left the field.

The payrolls of the various companies were slow in arriving at Forbes' office, thereby delaying the final announcement of the amount each man would receive. The companies will be paid off in the next week.

VINCENT ASTOR HOME; TO BE BUSINESS MAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—"For years I will lead the life of a business man," said Vincent Astor, when he arrived from Europe aboard the Mauretania yesterday. I will occupy my new home on Fifth Avenue, opposite the Metropolitan Museum, and go to my work with regularity. My business will be of course real estate management. That is about all that I can say about my future.

It was said aboard the vessel that he had been very attentive to Miss Laura Webb on the voyage. Both smilingly admitted that they were good friends. Miss Webb was with her father and mother, Air and Mrs. F. E. Egerton Webb. Webb is a brother of Dr. W. Seward Webb.

NO ATTACK MADE ON AMERICAN LEGATION

BERNE, Sept. 28.—Despite reports to the contrary, in circulation in the United States, no attack was made yesterday on the American legation here by a mob which was demonstrating in sympathy with Ettore and Giovanni, leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, who are under arrest in Massachusetts.

The arrest of these men was made the occasion of a demonstration last Wednesday by a few hundred local Italians who in passing the American and Italian legations, hoisted several times the demonstration was so inconsequential however, that the police took no notice of it.

NEW YORK POLICE RAID WOMEN'S POKER JOINT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Several women were arrested from husbands who complained that their wives were gambling in a gambling establishment, resulted in a raid last night by the police. As the police rushed in, five women were engaged in a game of poker while three other women stood over them, so fascinated by the game they did not even notice the presence of the police.

When the women all of whom gave fictitious names and addresses were told they were under arrest their screams brought the theater crowds and the police officers were so blocked that the rescuers had to be called.
